British Miners to Aid U. S. Strikers

By F. A. WRAY.

LONDON, March 31.—The British miners' union is going to give its support to the American miners in their nation-wide strike, which begins at midnight tonight. The British coal miners, however, will not take any action to stop the shipment of coal to the United States unless the United Mine Workers of America request it. This information comes from Vernon Hartshorn, M. P., head of the South Wales Miners' Federation and a member of the executive committee of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain.

Kansas Miners to Defy Labor Court

Cause, Effect and Dangers of Mine Strike at Glance

CAUSE—Bituminous operators refuse to renew national wage contract, insisting on state agreements and reduction of wages. Anthracite miners and operators, meeting in New York, unable to reach satisfactory new contract.

EFFECT—Six hundred thousand miners out of work and fuel supply of nation menaced by cessation of work in the greater portion of the coal mining industry.

POTENTIALITIES—Threats made by sympathetic union workers, especially rail laborers, to go on strike to aid the miners, with the remote possibility of a general strike.

Kansas court of industrial relations extending for thirty days the present wage scale in the Kansas coal fields, miners of that district will drop their tools at midnight and strike with the rest of the nation's miners. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared today. The union chief told the International News Service that as the order is understood, it applies only to the operators, and even if it included the miners, the union does not recognize the right of the court to compel men to work.

Canadian Miners Pack Their Tools

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, March 31.—Coal strike: Coal miners in the Lethbridge and Crows Nest Pass fields began removing tools from the mines today in preparation for the strike scheduled to become effective at midnight.

About 2000 miners and others dependent on the industry will be affected in the Lethbridge field.

RIVAL STADIUM FACTIONS RUSH WORK ON PLANS

BERKELEY, March 31.—Work in opposite directions, the Berkeley Protective Association and the officials of the University of California are making plans for the construction of the memorial stadium. Handbills were distributed today to all house clubs and fraternities at the university offering a prize of $50 to be paid by the Protective Association for the best reply to a series of questions prepared by a member of the organization opposed to the site selected by the regents.

Robert Sprout, comptroller of the university and secretary of the regents, announced today that final plans for the stadium to be built on the Strawberry Canyon site would be submitted by the University Architect John Galen Howard on April 10. Construction will begin immediately upon the approving of the plans by the regents, he says.

Paul Elder to Give Jack London Tribute

Paul Elder announces "An Afternoon with Jack London" in the Paul Elder gallery tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Edward B. Payne of Berkeley, who was a relative by marriage of Jack London will give an appreciation of his life and literary work, speaking with particular reference to Mrs. Charmian London's recently published memoir, "The Book of Jack London," in which she has painted a triumphant picture of a unique personality. NO PROFITTEERING, NO VIOLENCE; U. S. ORDER IN STRIKE

Federal Government Indicates Firm Policy in Coal Mine Districts.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—While battle lines are being drawn out today for the greatest labor dispute in the country's history, officials in Washington went quietly about their business, watching closely, but keeping hands off.

So far as the administration is concerned, officials said, there will be no hurried last-minute conferences; no ultimatums and no frantic eleventh-hour attempts to prevent the strike going into effect at midnight, such as have featured similar situations in other years.

Having failed utterly to persuade the coal operators to meet the miners for the adjustment of a new contract, the government, it is said, will not intervene. The issue shall go to "a showdown" between the half million unionized miners and the operators.

Not until the public begins to suffer, either through lack of coal or from profiteering dealers, will the government take action, unless requested to do so by the parties to the controversy, it was stated officially.

The big strike will be ushered in at one minute past midnight with the two warnings from the government—one to the miners that there shall be no violence; the other to the operators that there shall be no profiteering.

"If the price of coal in any locality is boosted, that fact should immediately be reported to Washington," said Secretary of Labor Davis. "There is no justification for any advance in the price of coal and the public should not pay it."

Policemen Arrest Each Other; Speed Breaches Charged

ALAMEDA, March 31.—About a month ago Policeman Stanley Loveland was driving his automobile through Alameda's residential district, intent upon reaching his destination. He was somewhat chagrined when Motorcycle Policeman George Grey overhauled him and arrested him for exceeding the speed limit.

Loveland spoke feelingly on the bonds of fraternalism, but when Grey declined to weaken he submitted to arrest after voicing the hope that he some day would be given an opportunity to even the score.

Yesterday Loveland's wish was granted. He was driving in Webster street and observed Grey riding ahead on his motorcycle. According to Loveland, Grey was traveling at a fast rate even though there was no quarry in sight.

So Loveland gleefully overhauled Grey and arrested the latter on a charge of breaking the speed ordinance.

Chief of Police William Wamuth has the matter under consideration.

Ford, associate librarian emeritus, Oakland free library, will act as the chairman and will recite George Sterling's poem on London. Bamford enjoyed a dear friendship with Jack London for many years and he will show a group of fifteen presentation copies of the author's books inscribed by London with revealing tributes.

There is no admission charge, and the interested public are invited.

CHAUFFEUR WILL BE CITY'S GUEST OVER WEEK-END

BERKELEY, March 31.—April 1st will carry a real joker with it tomorrow for Roger Costes, 22 years old, 764 Lydia street, Oakland.

Costes appeared before Judge Robert Edgar this morning charged by Officer J. J. Fisher with going 47 miles an hour on San Pablo avenue last Sunday morning. Fisher declared that he was forced to fire several shots before Costes would stop the machine in which he and three girls were riding.

Costes admitted the charge. "You'd better plan to spend the week-end in jail, then," said the judge. "Come to court tomorrow morning prepared to be the guest of the county for a while."

The judge will announce tomorrow how many days Costes will spend in jail for his act. Costes is a chauffeur.

Last Day of Grace For Dogs Is April 1

ALAMEDA, March 31.—April 1st will end the armistice between the dogs of Alameda and Grant Hicks, poundmaster. After tomorrow, according to Hicks, every canine inhabitant of the city must have a license or else the owner will have to suffer the consequences. The law in Alameda at present makes it mandatory upon all dog owners to have a license for their pets whether they run loose or not. Neither is there any age limit to be recognized, according to Hicks.

Laundry Foreman, Quizzed, Shoots Man

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Becoming suddenly enraged when questioned as to why he had discharged an employee, Edwin Balmer, laundry foreman at the children's hospital, whipped out a revolver and shot Daniel Wheeler, 26, through the stomach, according to a report made to the police today. Wheeler may recover. Balmer is under arrest.

N JVIE BUSINESS OUT OF SLUMP; COMPANIES BUSY

HOLLYWOOD, March 31.—Hollywood movie studios were busier today than at any time during the past eighteen months. All signs of depression that almost paralyzed the celluloid belt are disappearing.

According to a tabulation made by the Hollywood Daily Citizen today, 100 companies are now producing, or preparing to begin production at once, while 45 short-subject companies are already at work.

Universal has thirteen companies at work; Famous Players-Lasky, eleven; Fox, five; Vitagraph, four; Metro and Robertson-Cole, three each, and Goldwyn, two.

Accommodations for dining and sleeping, as well as electric cigarette lighters, are provided on a motor bus, recently designed in France.

State Is Second In Placing Men

California is second in employment placements, according to the report of activities of state and municipal employment services, co-operating with the United States employment service and the United States Department of Labor.

The report is for the period made up of the months of December, 1921, and January and February, 1922.

Ohio was first with 31,095 placements. California's figure was 28,697 for the same period.

Oakland shows the third largest number of placements in California. There were 171 placements effected by the Red Cross and 1,172 by the city. Los Angeles shows the largest number of placements in the state, 2207.

GIRL STUDENTS OF S. F. INCENSED AT SMOKING CHARGE

Students, Faculty Hurl a Flat Denial at Woman's Vigilant Committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Faculty members and students of San Francisco's high school took emphatic exception today to the claims of members of the Women's Vigilant Committee that high school girls of this city openly smoke cigarettes and that many have already become "slaves" to the habit.

"I find it difficult to restrain myself in this matter," said Charles H. Murphy principal of the high school of Commerce. "I never have seen a girl in my school smoking or heard any teacher report or accuse one of my girls as a smoker."

"I consider the charges of the Women's Vigilant Committee of San Francisco as a gross injustice to the student body of the High School of Commerce. It is cheap propaganda on the part of a lot of busy bodies who ought to know better. It is with difficulty that I can speak calmly of these women who make up the membership of the committee."

Boy students were also rallying to the support of the girls, declaring that the charges were "absurd and unjust."

Girl students, indignant, were taking measures to force the women to prove their assertions that girl students were generally cigarette smokers or apologists.

Science Lectures

Broadcasting Asked

SAN LEANDRO, March 31.—A request that the University of California broadcast popular science lectures, accompanied with petitions and letters from radio enthusiasts to that effect, has been forwarded to the University by J. E. Faustina, local business man and radio fan. Faustina, long interested in the subject of radio, and possessor of a modern and complete set, has been interested in establishing such means of broadcasting current lectures. An appeal to those interested in the matter was recently sent from the Presidio broadcasting station by Faustina's request. Those receiving the message being asked to communicate with him and express approval if sufficiently favoring the idea.

OLA HUMPHREY IN $2,450,000 SUIT

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—(By International News Service).—Claiming that Ola Humphrey Hassan, former wife of Prince Ibrahim Hassan of Egypt, is "somewhere in California" and that she owes him $2,450,000 attorney's fees, a suit for that amount was on file here today for Herman L. Roth, New York theatrical attorney.

Roth claims that his client, an actress, engaged him on a fifty-fifty proposition to recover her share of one-half from the $14,000,000 estate of the prince, who the former Miss Humphrey married while touring Europe.

It is claimed by Roth that he made trips abroad in interest of the case and also was at great expense employing investigators and additional attorneys, and that in January, 1920, his client was awarded $5,000,000.

The former princess formerly resided in Oakland.

Night Blaze Destroys 500 Tons of Figs, Endangers Other Buildings.

FRESNO, March 31.—A spectacular fire, starting shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, razed the packing and manufacturing plant of the California Peach and Fig Growers, located at Fresno and G streets, causing a loss estimated by Vice-President and General Manager J. P. Niswander at approximately $150,000. The fire attracted thousands of spectators. It was brought under control at 3:30 o'clock after it had endangered a score of buildings in the surrounding vicinity.

Origin of the fire is undetermined but the assumption is that it started in the basement which had not been visited by T. E. Berry, the watchman, due to the intensity of sulphur fumes used to cure figs.

LOSS IS $150,000.

Berry, however, made a round of the building at 2 o'clock and noticed neither fire nor flames. The blaze was first discovered by Colonel Ragsdale, private officer employed in the foreign quarters of the city, who reported the fire to Sergeant J. Hardbrook, of the police department, following which an alarm was turned in.

The building is owned by the Guggenheim Packing company and is valued at approximately $20,000. Approximately 500 tons of figs, valued at $150 a ton, were lost. The loss to the stock is placed at $100,000 alone by Niswander.

The value of the equipment in the building was put at $20,000 by the company official. After the fire department had arrived, a second and third alarm was turned in, bringing out six engine companies, two trucks and two chemical companies.

TRAFFIC SUSPENDED.

As the building appeared to be doomed, efforts were centered to save the Toomey Fruit company building and other adjacent structures including the Capitol hotel, the Hotel Bascongado and the Taylor hotel.

All traffic on the Southern Pacific railroad was suspended due to the menace of the flames and the intensity of the heat. Fire caused electricity in the district to be shut off when high power lines fell as the flames reached the power poles.

MURDER, ROBBERY PLOT CONFESSED

GRASS VALLEY, March 31.—A detailed confession of a plot to rob the North Star mine of the monthly clean-up of bullion by the murder of five watchmen, was obtained from S. Rodriguez and Albert Greenwald last night, according to announcement of Frank Depue, employed as a detective at the mine. The men were arrested Thursday night, with V. Rodriguez and C. Sidelio.

The detective said the men planned to attack the watchmen with loaded pick handles, cut their throats and carry them away on stretchers improvised for the purpose. Innumerable weapons with stretchers and a large quantity of dynamite were found in the home of one of the men, it was stated. One of the men purchased an automobile a week ago in which the officers say it was planned to carry the loot away.

SINGER CHARMS HER AUDIENCE

"Oh, Alice, did you hear Gallie-Cured? I could float straight to heaven listening to her sing. My! It must be wonderful to have a voice like that. If I could sing like she does I wouldn't have to worry about any ordinary things and whenever I felt that I had any troubles of any sort I would just sing and would be charmed by my own voice."

"Yes, that's all very well, but you had better come down to earth and remember that you and the most of us mortals aren't so favored by fortune. We haven't any voice to make people love us, so we have to resort to other means. By the way, that reminds me that I am in the depths of despair over the clothes problem. Dick sort of gave my old black party gown a funny look the last dance we went to and I know he was ashamed of me. I know men like girls who are snappily dressed. I wish I could wear something new when I see Dick again, but I can't afford it."

"Yes, you can if you go to Cherry's. I saw an adorable beaded party dress of a sort of orange color crepe that would be stunning with your black hair. Buy it on credit and pay monthly. You can practically arrange your own terms. They're at 515 13th street."

Cherry's store for men is at 523 13th street.—Advertisement.

FILING RULES ON CLUB PERSONNEL TO BE ENFORCED

Mayor Says That Action Will Insure Each Organization Proper Attention.

The old rule which compels improvement and civic clubs to file membership statements with the city clerk will be revived immediately and kept strictly up to date. This statement was made today by Mayor Davis, as the result of pleas, protests and applications made to the city council recently by various organizations which, it is held, have never been recognized by the city.

"We have a rule," says Mayor Davis, "but in the case of a lot of little improvement clubs we have let the matter go, having many more important things coming up. But recently, on several occasions, we have had communications from all sorts of one-man or two-man improvement clubs which pass resolutions all by themselves and then come into council with lengthy statements which demand as much time and attention as the big clubs which have solid memberships.

"The old rule was made so that the council should be able to judge the strength of a plea or protest by any organization. Naturally a little more attention as the big clubs should not receive the attention of one which represents hundreds of citizens, and the rule is going to be enforced."

"Organizations which have business with the council will please file their membership statements with the city clerk."

POWER CONFERENCE STARTS. WOODLAND, March 31.—Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric company are meeting with the residents of Esparto and farmers of the Capay valley, who, through W. O. Wyatt, have applied for a power and electric line down the big almond and fruit belts. Indications are that enough of the large property interests will contract for power and light to make the extension of the line possible at an early date.

READING HOLDS POST. LONDON, March 31.—In the house of lords today Lord Winterston, under-secretary of state for India, denied the reports which had been circulated recently that Lord Reading the viceroy of India, had resigned.

RUSS WILL SEEK RECOGNITION OF SOVIET AT GENOA

Action Sought As a Means to Restore Trade Relations With World.

RIGA, March 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Recognition of the soviet regime as the de jure government of Russia will be sought at the Genoa conference "not because this form of recognition has magic power, but because it will aid in restoring trade relations between Russia and the rest of the world," said Foreign Minister Chicherin, head of the soviet delegation, in his interview yesterday with the foreign correspondents.

The soviets hold that the entente powers were the instigators of the campaigns conducted by General Denikine and General Baron Wrangel, he said, and the delegation is prepared to present claims in that connection at Genoa. The success of the conference depended on the extent to which the powers were prepared for reconciliation. The Bolsheviks would not hold themselves culpable if the other nations represented at Genoa were irreconcilable and presented impossible conditions.

M. Chicherin received the correspondence in the Russian legation. He was well groomed; his clothing, while not new, still was good, his sandy beard had been trimmed carefully and like many others of the delegation he wore patent leather shoes which apparently pinched his feet. In his coat lapel was a tiny red flag, the insignia of office.

FOREIGN WARS VETERANS OPEN MEMBERS' DRIVE

Former Soldiers Ask All Ex-Service Men to Unite for Mutual Good.

The Alameda county posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today opened a seven-day drive for membership. Stations have been opened at the principal corners of the downtown districts of all the Eastbay cities, and all former service men who served on foreign soil in any war between the United States and a foreign power will be asked to join.

In addition to recruiting members the down-town stations are accepting and forwarding to the national committee at Washington, claims of former service men for compensation or disability, regardless of whether they are members of the organization or where they served.

The veterans who will be in attendance at the stations are volunteer workers, there being no paid employees in the county organization, and represent men from many campaigns.

Rheumatism at 60

S.S.S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S.S.S., surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S.S.S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother. S.S.S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger, also, is the more economical.

Your Mouth Deserves the Best Everstick Suction Plate

with TruByte Teeth

No dentist can produce a better set of teeth than this, even though he should charge from $50 to $100 for the work. TruByte Teeth are the most beautiful, natural-looking and durable artificial teeth made. They cost the dentist more money than any other kind, hence are generally used only on the most expensive plates.

The tiny grooves and depressions found in Nature's teeth, which are put there to soften the high lights and shadows, are reproduced in TruByte Teeth. The shape of the teeth and their coloring are so perfect that it is almost impossible to tell them from real teeth when in the mouth.

Each TruByte Tooth is mounted on the plate by means of two gold-clad pins, which cannot rust or corrode as do the cheap pins used on low-grade teeth.

The Everstick Suction Plate remains firmly in place all the time, without wobbling or dropping. Even under the most severe conditions the suction will hold the plate tight.

We guarantee the Everstick Suction Plate to fit perfectly and give the utmost satisfaction. Call at once and convince yourself that this plate is exactly what we claim—the biggest value ever offered.

BELGIAN'S BLACK ARMY CUT.

Agreement Signed for Ending Strife in Erin

LONDON, March 31.—(By The Associated Press).—Signing of the agreement between the representatives of Northern and Southern Ireland outlining measures for the pacification of the country, came with unexpected suddenness.

The agreement provides for the reorganization of the police in Ulster on a basis satisfactory to the religious feelings of the people of the north and the south; for the trial of persons charged with serious offenses by a special court composed of the highest justices; for general co-operation between the north and the south of a most promising character and for assistance from the British Parliament to remedy the unemployment difficulties in the north, which rendered the carrying out of the previous Craig-Collins pact almost impossible.

The articles of agreement signed last night follow:

"First—Peace is today declared.

"Second—From today the two governments undertake to co-operate in every way within their power with a view to the restoration of peaceful conditions in the unsettled areas.

"Third—The police in Belfast are to be organized in general in accordance with the following conditions:

"Special police in mixed districts to be composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants. All specials not required for these forces to be withdrawn to their homes and surrender their arms.

"An advisory committee composed of Catholics will assist in the selection of Catholic recruits for the special police.

"All police on duty, except the usual secret service men, to be uniformed and officially numbered.

ARMS AND SEARCH.

"All arms and ammunition issued to the police to be deposited in barracks in charge of a military or other competent officer when policemen are not on duty, and an official record must be kept of all arms issued and ammunition used.

"Any search for arms is to be carried out by a police force composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants, the military rendering any necessary assistance.

"Fourth—A court is to be constituted for the trial without jury of persons charged with serious crimes. The court to consist of the lord chief justice and one of the lord justices of appeal in Northern Ireland. Any person committed for trial for a serious crime is to be tried by that court (A) if he so requests, or (B) if the attorney general for Northern Ireland so directs. Serious crimes are those punishable by death, penal servitude or imprisonment exceeding six months. The government of Northern Ireland will take steps to pass necessary legislation to give effect to this article.

"Fifth—A committee is to be established in Belfast with equal numbers of Catholics and Protestants, and with an independent chamber, preferably a Catholic or Protestant alternately in successive weeks, to hear and investigate complaints of intimidation, outrages, etc., such committee having direct access to the heads of the government.

"The local press is to be approached with a view to inserting only such reports of disturbances, etc., as shall have been considered and communicated by this committee.

WILL ORGANIZE POLICE.

"Sixth—Irish army activities are to cease in the six counties and thereupon a method of organizing special police in the six counties outside of Belfast shall proceed as speedily as possible on lines similar to those agreed to in Belfast.

"Seventh—During the month immediately following the passing into law of a bill confirming the constitution of the Free State, being the month within which the northern parliament is to exercise its option and before any address in accordance with article XII of the treaty is presented, there shall be a further meeting between the signatories of the agreement with a view to ascertaining (a) whether means can be devised to secure unity in Ireland or (b), failing this, whether an agreement can be arrived at on the boundary question otherwise than by recourse in the boundary commission under the treaty.

"Eighth—The return to their homes of persons expelled is to be secured by the respective governments, and the advice of the committee mentioned in Article V is to be sought in cases of difficulty.

RELIEF WORK PLANNED.

"Ninth—In view of the special conditions consequent on the political situation in Belfast and neighborhood, the British government will submit to parliament a vote, not exceeding 1500,000, for the ministry of labor in Northern Ireland, to be expended exclusively in relief work, one-third for the benefit of Catholics and two-thirds for Protestants. The northern signatories agree to use every effort to secure the restoration of the expelled workmen and wherever this proves impracticable owing to trade depression, they will be afforded employment on relief work.

"Tenth—The two governments can in cases agreed upon between the signatories, arrange for the release of political prisoners in prison for offenses committed before the date hereof. No offenses committed after March 31 shall be open to consideration.

"Eleventh—The two governments unite in appealing to all concerned to refrain from inflammatory speeches and to exercise restraint in the interests of peace.

The agreement was signed on behalf of the provisional government by Michael Collins, Eamon J. Dwyer and Arthur Griffith; for the northern government by Sir James Craig, the Marquis of Londonderry and E. A. Archdale, and for the imperial government by Winston Churchill, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans and Sir Hamar Greenwood.

EASTER SERVICE PLANNED.

WOODLAND, March 31.—Church people of Winters are making arrangements for the holding of Easter services this year in Putah Canyon, lined with wild flowers and attractive to visitors from all parts of the state. This is where the famous red bud grows, making the Easter floral decorations for the services which are to be conducted by Rev. H. H. Wilson. The Winters band will have charge of the music. Harold S. New Steamship Head Arrives in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—A statement which declared there would be no changes in the company's personnel was issued today by Gale H. Carter, newly-elected president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, following his arrival here yesterday from New York. Carter succeeds George Baldwin, who was appointed chairman of the board of directors.

Carter said that while he is in this city he will make a survey of the company's activities here, but that the main purpose of his visit was to take a rest at his Marin county home.

Shipping on the Atlantic has picked up wonderfully in the last few months, after the depression in the tonnage of the world, he said. "The entire fleet of the Grace Steamship company is now in active operation. The last seven vessels were placed in service shortly before I departed. Four of the steamers have been assigned to the west coast of South America and the other three for services to Baltic ports."

Thief Prefers Death To Prison and Wins

FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., March 31.—On Monday Genus Coffield, colored, said in court that he preferred hanging to serving five years in the penitentiary. Thereupon he stabbed his nephew who had turned state's evidence in a burglary charge. The wounded man died Tuesday. Coffield was placed on trial and found guilty of murder Wednesday. Yesterday he was sentenced to be hanged May 5.

Train Slides Into Canal; Four Injured

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—Five cars of the Dominion express on the Pennsylvania railroad slid down a 20-foot embankment into the old Pennsylvania canal at Halifax early this morning. The train was bound from Buffalo to Washington. The wreck was caused by a broken rail.

There were 90 passengers on the train and many of them were asleep in their berths and did not know what had happened, some not being awakened.

Four persons were injured. They were: I. Spence, Atlantic City; J. Herringham, Baltimore; W. Collins, American Federation of Labor building, Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. W. C. Roosevelt, Baltimore.

DUAL MOTHERHOOD OBREGON ORDERS PROBLEM RAISED IN TWINS' DEATH

Probate Court Faces Tangle in Young Son's Share of $100,000 Estate.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The death of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, the "Siamese twins," has left the Cook county probate court with a legal problem which apparently is unprecedented. In disposing of the $100,000 estate of the twins, the court must decide if 11-year-old Franz is the son of one or of both of the twins.

A scientific controversy which began even before the death of the sisters yesterday has resolved itself into the question: "Were Rosa and Josefa Blazek one individual personality or did they constitute separate entities?"

If they were one personality the estate will inherit the entire fortune accumulated by the twins. If they were two distinct personalities, Rosa's half of the estate would go to the lad, while Josefa's closest relative would be entitled to her half.

Physicians say there are physiological facts to support each contention and attorneys agree that a legal opinion must be based on a scientific analysis of the bodies. So far a post-mortem has been opposed by the brother, Frank Blazek, who is in this city.

Dr. C. K. Briggs, one surgeon who had examined the twins, insists that it was a case of dual motherhood, while Dr. Benjamin E. Brakstone, chief of the surgical staff at the hospital where the women died, contends Rosa was the mother and Josefa the aunt.

Huge Estate to Be Seized Because No Effort Made to Cultivate It.

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The expropriation of the estate in Chihuahua of General Luis Terrazas, over which there has been considerable controversy, was ordered last night by President Obregon. The estate comprises more than 6000 acres. The president orders that the confiscation "commence as soon as possible within the period prescribed by law and for reasons of public utility."

The reasons for the expropriation are said to be because a large part of it is uncultivated land and no effort is being made by the owner to make it productive. It was stated that "the program of the government is to endeavor by every legal means to sub-divide large holdings which do not constitute a source of production at present due to the inability of a single owner to bring about its agricultural development."

SHOOTS WIFE AS HE DREAMS, IS PLEA OF SLAYER

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 31.—While his wife was lying in bed asleep, Ambrose Watts, 32, who claims to have been dreaming, shot her through the head early today.

Watts told police the report of his revolver awakened him and he found his wife dead at his side.

VICE-GOVERNOR ARRIVES. MANILA, P. I., March 31.—The new vice-governor of the Philippines, Eugene Allen Gilmore, recently professor of law at the University of Wisconsin, arrived yesterday aboard the Hoosier State and was welcomed by a large party, including representatives from the governor-general's office and the department of education.

VOLGA FAMINE PERIOD PASSES

MOSCOW, March 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—"The peak of the famine in the Volga has been passed; henceforth conditions will rapidly improve," says Colonel William N. Haskell, director of American relief administration work in Russia, said in a statement yesterday.

Barring unforeseen difficulties, he believes all deaths from starvation in the Volga will cease within a month. Corn is being rushed to the famine districts simultaneously with seed wheat.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.

Club Women Will Go East on Special Train

By EDNA B. KINARD.

California will send a special train to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Chautauque, N. Y., June 19-30. Mrs. Elton Warner of Oakland, first vice-president of Alameda district, C. F. W. C., has been appointed to the important work of state transportation chairman. Headed by Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, state president, the California delegation will number at least 20 in the opinion of those in close touch with federation affairs. Low rates, delightful traveling companions and announcement of the many pleasures which will be offered enroute are attracting the leaders to the mid-summer tour.

The California special is scheduled to leave Oakland on June 15. Reservations should be in the hands of Mrs. Warner by June 1. At Ogden the local women are arranging to connect with the parties from the states of Washington, Nevada and Utah. Clubs along the way are planning to greet the western delegations at all stops. Summer excusion rates of one and one-third for the round trip to Chicago will be in effect. The round trip fare between Chicago and Chautauque will be at a rate of one and one-half fare.
Special rates will be offered on an identification certificate plan.

Mrs. Robert Burdette and Dr.
Marianne Berola will be among the state leaders who will be in attendance at the biennial convention.

"Redwoods of Northern California" is the subject which has been announced for the address by Dr.
Willis Lyman Jepson before the Tracy Woman's Club, celebrating a husband's night tomorrow evening in Masonic Hall. Dr. Jepson will make a strong appeal for the support of "Save the Redwoods" movement. He is regarded as an authority on the trees in California, making a particular study of the redwoods. Since 1918 he has been active in a campaign to preserve adequate areas of these trees. Dr.
Jepson is a professor in the University of California. Tomorrow night's lecture will be illustrated with many colored slides showing the various groves of the coast.

Officers and department chairmen of Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet in executive session at 10:30 a. m.
in the Y. W. C. A. building tomorrow, when plans and the program for the annual convention, April 19-21, in Berkeley, will be perfected. Mrs.
George A. Rigg, president, who was in charge of the state board meeting in Los Angeles last Saturday, will bring some important matters before the local directors.

The School Women's Club, of Oakland, will present the last in a series of modern dramas in Oakland Technical High school auditorium Friday night, April 7, "Getting Married" (Bernard Shaw) will be the final production to be offered by the Creek Theater Players. Although several hundred season tickets were sold, single admissions are in effect. The educators of the city launched the project of placing before the public the opportunity of viewing modern dramas at low cost. Their pioneering has proved successful from the financial as well as the artistic angle.

Mrs. J. E. Garlick will open her home at Monte Vista avenue Monday to the members and guests of the Hill Club, arranging a delicious hour of music and reading for their pleasure.

When this week Mrs. John H.
Meylan and Miss Ella Ryan joined as hostess to the half hundred friends they made the members of the Sequoia Branch of the Baby Hospital the guests of honor. Current events were covered in an interesting talk by Mrs. Henrietta Farnum. Dramatic readings from Henry VIII were offered by Mrs. H.
M. Hastings. Musical numbers were given by Miss Ryan, Miss Everett and Miss Stoner. A pretty-appointed tea concluded the hour.

Kern Jury Convicts
Bakersfield Radical BAKERSFIELD, March 31.—A jury trying the case of C. J. Sullivan, charged with criminal syndicalism, returned a verdict of guilty in the superior court here yesterday after deliberating less than 25 minutes.
Sullivan was arrested last December in the Kern River oil fields. It was alleged that organization literature of the Industrial Workers of the World was found in his possession.
Sullivan will appear before Judge
W. McMahon for sentence tomorrow.

During the trial numerous extracts from pamphlets purporting to be I. W. W. literature were read to the jury. The principal witness against Sullivan was John Dymond, who told of having assisted in a raid on an
I. W. W. headquarters at Fresno.

STARLIGHT
by Leah McGillicie Gibson

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first families of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather and, lured by Filandun, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Arriving in Los Angeles, she meets Gloria Summers, who is in the movies. They become warm friends. They meet Herbert Richardson, a wealthy young man who has been interested in Gloria.
Gloria accepts, for herself and Virginia, Herbert Richardson's invitation to a party. Ria and Virginia plead that they must leave early. Herb is exasperated at their departure.
Next morning Gloria and Virginia hurry to "the lot" for Virginia's first job in the movies. Virginia found her first day in the movies intensely interesting and very new. She says she made good with the director. Gloria was beside herself almost at the news of the actress' success. She was in Herb Richardson's party. At the end of the day's work Gloria had managed to find Herb leaving Virginia to find her way home alone. Before Richardson called for Gloria. Midway she noticed he was not taking her home. Alarmed, she proceeded alone, mile after mile. Virginia found a place he could discuss his affairs with her. As the motor purred along, mile after mile, Virginia found a side to Herb Richardson's character which she had little suspected. He quoted to her numerous passages from Thomas Hardy's famous "The Well-Beloved." He showed Virginia that apart from wrong influences her too was a real man. Virginia urged him to repeat his conversation to Gloria—she urged him to marry Gloria.

HERB RICHARDSON'S STORY.
In women was totally different from the Coralie had married.
"Virginia, you read every day in the papers of the cruelty of men to their wives, of the abuse they heap upon them and yet you seldom hear of the things that lead up to that cruelty."
"For two years Coralie Richardson harassed and exasperated me from morning until night. Nothing that I could do suited her. I gave her all the money that she could possibly ask for and she flung it around like a drunken sailor—and yet her passion of extravagance wasn't sated. I was true to her not because of love for her, but from an inner sense of honor to myself and my name, and yet she accused me of making love to every woman we met—even her dearest friends."
"At last I could stand it no longer and one morning when she had goaded me beyond control I raised my hand. Before God I only intended to shake her, but in some way I pushed against her shoulder and she, pretending that I had struck her, fell to the floor."
"I have always been ashamed of it.
It was the most unmanly act of my life and yet, since then I have had the greatest sympathy for men in like positions."
"Of course, she applied immediately for a divorce and I did not oppose it. When the decree was handed to me I knew that I was more disillusioned than ever."
"The first woman had killed my respect for women. Coralie had killed my respect for myself. She had

"I am afraid to—I am afraid to admit it to myself."
I looked at Herbert Richardson in surprise. I did not understand what he was trying to say. Then I asked: "Why should you be afraid of a little girl like Ria?"
"I am not afraid of Ria, but I am afraid of marriage. You may not know it, but I have been married once. When my wife divorced me, on the grounds of cruelty, I made up my mind that I never would put myself in a position like that again."
"You remember that I told you of my first love—the woman who took away every illusion of my youth, the woman who planted in me the seeds of the sordid, satirical, unhappy man that you saw last night at the Cocoanut Grove."

"After a while time numbed my hurt. My family was extremely anxious that I should marry my cousin, Coralie. We had grown up together and she was at our house almost as much as she was in her own. She was very much like Ria—decided in her opinions and aggressive in foisting them on you."
"I thought I was fond of her. At least I had the habit of seeing her around, of calling for her to accompany me on rides and to drive and swimming and tennis. Our friends began to pair us off together and at last I came to the conclusion that while I had none of the thrill, none of the joy or torture which men call love, because of Coralie's nearness, yet I said to myself this is the calm affection, the habit of life which makes for a happy marriage—and I asked her to be my wife. After the wedding I found that the Coralie that I had played with in childhood according to the Coralie that I had grown up with in seemingly perfect understanding, the Coralie that I had thought had brought back my faith made me a man who had raised his hand against a woman and I said:

"Never again!" Since then I have had many flirtations, many affairs, many lights of love. They have come and gone like shadows, unremembered and unremembered.
"Ria is the only woman who has ever stayed in my heart for long,
and yet I am afraid to marry her, afraid I will find her different, afraid of myself if I do find her different."
Again he was silent, and I counted the wheels of the motor.
"We must go back," I finally said.
Herb locked the brake abruptly and the car skidded perilously. He turned it around and started back without speaking. In half an hour he stopped in front of our own apartment house.
Without a word he followed me to our door and, before I could put my key in the lock, it was opened by Ria.
"Where have you been?" Ria's voice quivered with emotion.
"I took the question for myself and answered: "Herb Richardson came to the studio for you. Finding that you had gone, he drove me home."
"You must have come the long way around," Ria answered tartly.

"We did," put in Herb quietly as he attempted to come into the room.
"Don't come in! I never want to see you again."
"Wait Ria! Let me explain," I interrupted, quoted on me, demanding:
"What do you know about it?"
"Tomorrow—Gloria Quarrels With Herb."

TRADE DEADLOCK IN RUSSIA SEEN AT QUIET PORTS

Economic Situation Causes
Slump in All Export Business; Country Suffers.

ODESSA, March 31.—The economic deadlock from which Russia now is suffering can be seen best at such a port as this. The wide sea is at the gates of this once rich city, yet a barrier more potent than water separates the land from new prosperity. This barrier is politics and the result of politics.

Free trade between the citizens of Russia and the outside world is not now possible between individuals. Russians must deal with foreigners through the Foreign Trade Board, headed by Leonid Krassin in London. This policy just now is blocking trade prospects here as elsewhere.

To this port once came yearly 700 ships. Today a few Greek trading ships call here from Constantinople carrying flour and sugar. Now and then a British vessel delivers a cargo of coal pit for in London. American vessels are landing seed grain purchased in the same manner.

NO REAL TRADE. Local business men say there can be no real trade with Russia until all the Communist regulations are thrown overboard, private property fully recognized, a stable money secured and Russia restored to production, through long-time foreign loans.

These men are not anti-Communists just for the sake of politics. They want the Communists to stay in power, provided they will make trade possible. They say the Communists are the only people capable of holding Russia together, that any new government would mean another revolution and more ruin.

The first task of Russia and especially of agricultural Ukraine, is to grow wheat. Here in Odessa there are still the representatives of a half dozen American, British and German agricultural implement firms. In the old pre-war days they sold each millions of dollars' worth of machinery. Today they are ready to begin again under right conditions.

SAVE HARVEST.

Their agents could save next year's harvest in this granary of Europe if free trade were permitted. The steam plows could do the work of the horses killed off under the Communist regime. They could get spare parts and repair the old machinery now in the villages.

But this they are not permitted to do. The government, if it supplies such machinery by payment of gold abroad, is obliged to turn it over to inexperienced farmers or ones without capital. Machinery bought by the government in small quantities has, in certain parts of Russia, been resold by the receivers in order to get bread.

MELBOURNE RAIL STATION BUSIEST

SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 31.—The Melbourne Central station is the busiest railroad terminal in the world, according to the contention advanced today by the Victorian railway authorities, who contend that more trains are handled there daily than at any of the other large stations.

In 1913 a count showed that 1377 passenger, 114 freight and 176 switch engines passed through the Melbourne station, and recent electrification has raised the total number of trains to 1500 daily. These carry at least 200,000 passengers, it is said.

Prior to the war, the Liverpool street station in London was regarded as the busiest in the world, with 1220 passenger trains, carrying between 150,000 and 160,000 persons daily.

The Victorian authorities contend that the Melbourne station handles more trains and more passengers than the St. Lazare station in France, the South Boston station in Boston or the Grand Central terminal in New York City.

Mexican Boundary Line To Be Fixed

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—The Mexican government has been informed by Great Britain that she is willing to accept the boundary line between the Mexican territory of Quintana Roo and British Honduras, as recommended some time ago by a special Mexican committee. Work of placing the necessary marks is to begin immediately. The boundary line in question runs through a desert country.

QUEEN OF THE ISLAND. MONTEVIDEO, March 31.—There is only one woman in South Georgia Island, burial place of Sir Ernest Shackleton. She is the wife of one of the keepers of a whaling station.

Merchandising Experts State
New Shop Unsurpassed for Beauty, Comfort.

An ornament to Oakland and a monument to a California company that has shown unswerving faith in the growth of the state and has grown and prospered with it until today—like California—it ranks among the leaders, the beautiful new building, housing the greatly enlarged Reich and Lievre store at 1530 Broadway, will be dedicated tomorrow night with a formal opening, fashion shows and entertainment.

The members of the firm, Maurice Reich and George Lievre, with J. J. Such, the manager of the new Oakland store, will act as hosts to thousands of residents of Alameda county who will then have their first opportunity to inspect the wonders unfolded by this most modern retail institution.

PROMISES FULFILLED.
The firm of Reich and Lievre promised the people of the Eastbay section the finest Woman's Apparel Shop on the entire Pacific Coast and the completed building shows that the promise has been more than fulfilled, for it is a general opinion of merchandising experts that the new store is not surpassed by any in the country, and that there are few to compare with it for beauty and convenience.

Rearing its Gothic facade four stories above the sidewalk, the new edifice is constructed of reinforced concrete and steel, the last word in building construction and fireproofing. The front elevation is a thing of classic beauty, with its pure Gothic lines and intricate ornamentation. The show windows, covering an area of 2500 square feet, as large in themselves as many stores, are unusually impressive. The show windows are arranged to form an arcade, having three separate entrances from Broadway and leading into a center promenade from which entrance to the store proper is gained. The three separate entrances from Broadway, and leading into the store proper, are arranged to form an arcade, having three separate entrances from Broadway and leading into a center promenade from which entrance to the store proper is gained.

IMPRESSIVE IMMINENCY.
Entering the front door one is immediately impressed with the immensity and quiet beauty of the new edifice, embracing as it does 49,000 square feet of selling space in addition to the room required for the offices, rest rooms, stock rooms, elevators, stairways, etc. The store interior is arranged in the form of a gigantic arcade, with a center court extending from the front door directly to the rear, where it is topped with a stained glass dome. The area of this center arcade is 24 feet wide by 68 feet long. From the glass dome above it floods the entire store with light, soft, even, and restful and beautiful. The color scheme of the interior is a soft cream with solid mahogany woodwork and mahogany fixtures and show cases.

The main floor is to be devoted to departments devoted to gloves, hosiery, veiling, neckwear, handkerchiefs, jewelry, handbags, infants' wear, children's wear, underwear, petticoats, blouses, sweaters, sports accessories and shoes.

Directly in line with the main entrance, at the rear of the central arcade, a broad stairway leads to the basement, where the most modern and complete merchandise. At the right of the arcade are ornamental stairways and two fast passenger elevators leading to the upper floors. These elevators are the most modern, spacious, self-leveling type—accident proof.

KEY TO DEPARTMENTS.
The mezzanine floor, reached by stairs or elevators, is given over to the Millinery Department, which occupies the front portion, and to the Beauty Salon, manufacturing and hair goods department, to the rear. The Beauty Salon is equipped with the very latest modern sanitary appliances in white enamel. The furniture is richly upholstered in green.

Ascending the express elevators, one is carried quickly and gently to the second floor, where are located the large departments devoted to gowns, dresses for street and afternoon wear, dancing frocks and kindred models. On the second floor are 30 separate fitting and selling areas, each with its own stock room, and each with its own dressing room, for the leisurely inspection by customers. Taupe velvet carpeting is used to relieve the large spaces of the wood flooring.

On the third floor, which duplicates the floor plan of the second, are the display and selling rooms for coats, wraps and suits, and in addition a large main room and the commodious, daylight fitting and selling rooms, are stock rooms to accommodate 2500 garments. Taupe velvet carpeting likewise is used on the third floor, 2200 yards being necessary for these two stories.

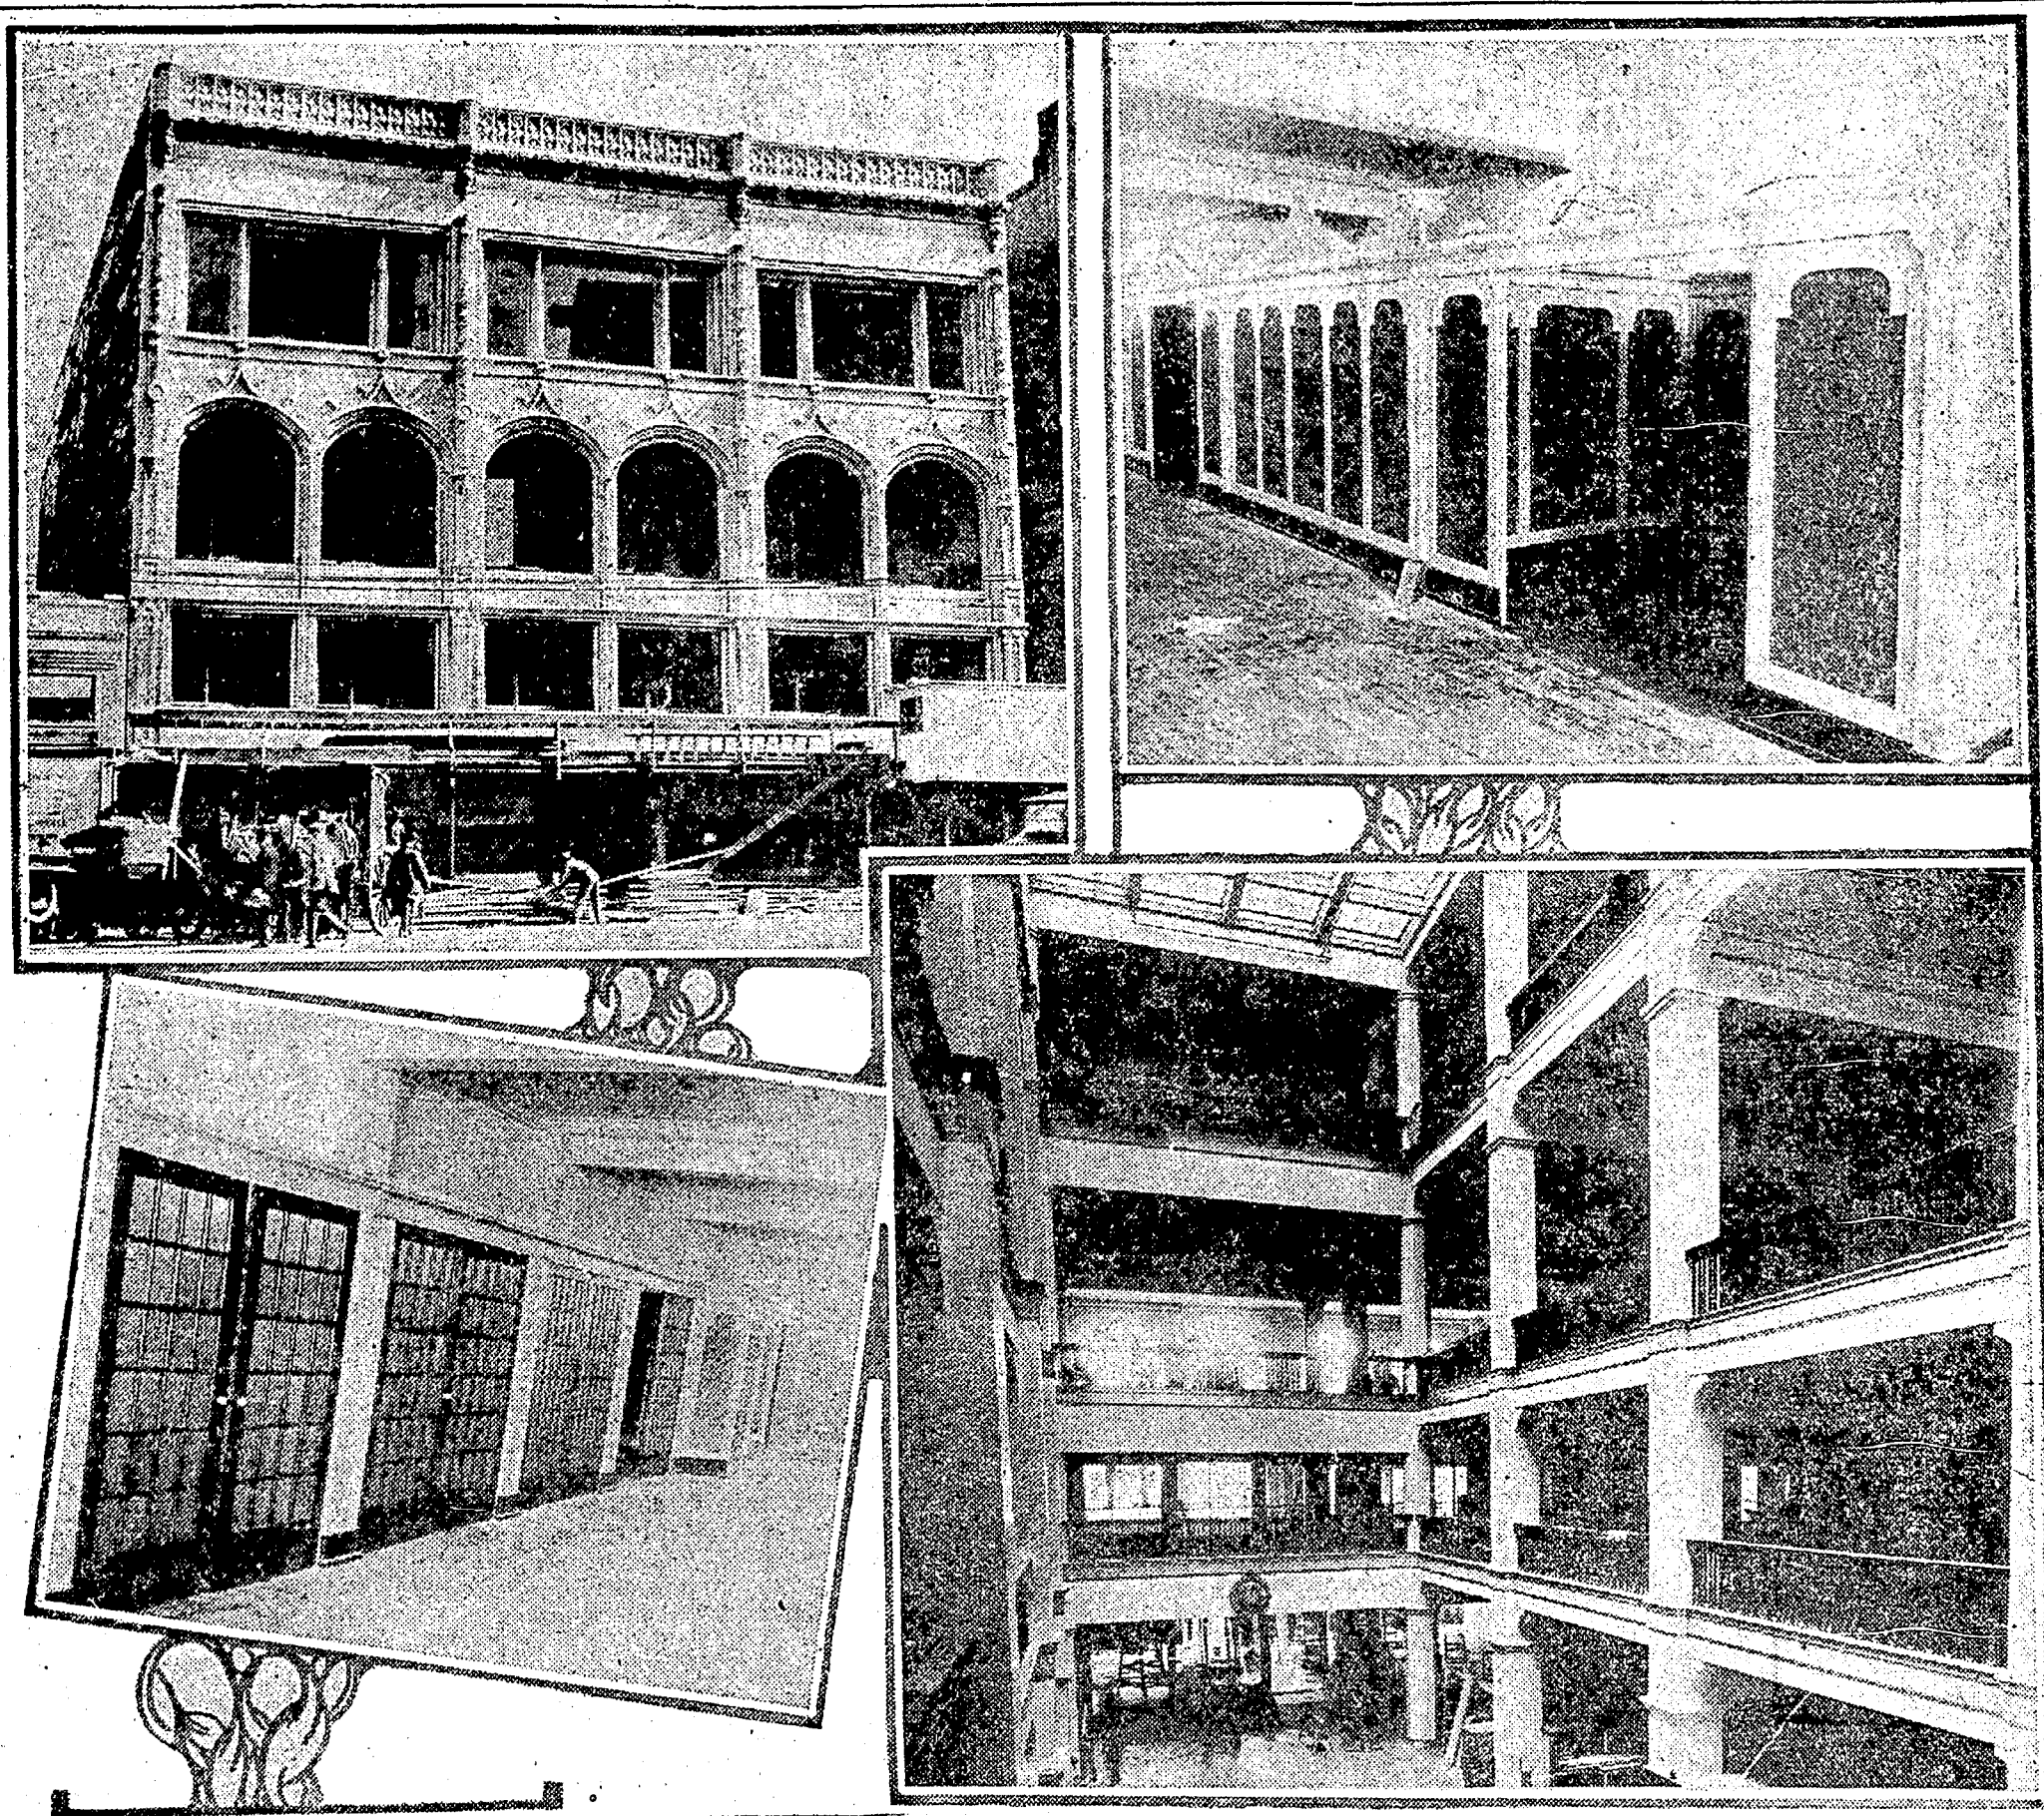

A DAYLIGHT STORE.
A feature of the new store that women will appreciate is the fact that it is in the strictest sense of the word a "daylight store"—for only on the darkest days will artificial lighting be necessary. And when it is the store is flooded with the soft rays from the large windows, the booths are arranged so that women enabled to examine garments under artificial light, securing the exact effect they will give both in the daytime and at night.

Another feature conducive to the comfort of customers and the store organization will be the heating and cooling system by means of which an even temperature will be maintained throughout the entire store at all times, no matter what the temperature may be outside.

A tube system extends from all departments directly to the offices and credit department, where the cashier's office is arranged to permit the very expedient making of change, assuring customers against any delays in this respect. In the rear of the store are waiting rooms for customers, consultation rooms for cus-

Monument to Growth of Progressive City and Progressive Firm

DURABILITY, VARIETY COMBINED IN HOSIERY

Since stockings have become a conspicuous part of the dress of the day the service efforts of progressive merchants have been directed toward two ends: to give to customers those stockings that represent the best values in durable wearing qualities and low cost of acquisition, and to offer a variety of styles and colors so extensive that it will not only meet every requirement of usage, but also will satisfy every individual taste and every style whim. The Hosiery Department of Reich & Lievre has solved these two problems in a manner that is characteristic of this up-to-minute store. By careful scientific analysis it was determined that silk hosiery furnishes the maximum of durability. A rope of silk is almost as strong as a cable of steel, and into the Reich & Lievre silk hosiery go the longest and stoutest filaments that resourceful nature has provided. Silk is not preferred to the disparagement of wool or linen, and, indeed, for purposes wool or linen may have preference; especially in the matter of warmth—and from a style standpoint wool or linen, of a mixture of the two is especially well adapted to sports use. Accordingly the Reich & Lievre Hosiery Department, in its service to the women of the Eastbay section, emphasizes each in its proper place, and to coincide with the solution of the problem of cost, Reich & Lievre relies upon its established merchandising policy of large volume of business and small profits on individual sales. With the vastness of the store, the multiplicity of

MILLINERY OFFERING IS TRIUMPH OF ARTISTRY

From the time that primitive woman made the first garland of flowers or berries and perched it upon her head the gentle sex has been destined to be the slave of the millinery. And that she is a willing slave is easily understood when one glimpses the new arrivals for Spring that are being shown in the Millinery Department of the new Reich & Lievre store. The creations of millinery have had a fondness for flowers from time immemorial, but never before have flowered hats achieved greater vogue than now. And never before has the art that is man's so improved upon the beauty that is nature's as in this season's millinery floral offerings, for the Paris flower-makers have succeeded in creating blooms that would stagger the imagination of Luther Burbank.

The leading New York makers are represented in the first Millinery showing of the new Reich & Lievre store. Model hats from Bendel, Joseph, Brook-Wells, Arnold, Cupid and others are on display. The ideas of A. G. Hall, the architect and superintendent of buildings for Reich & Lievre. Its erection was the work of William Knowles, the noted Oakland architect and contractor.

and other creative artists, together with copies and adaptations from the latest Paris openings are shown in profusion. The Reich & Lievre Millinery Department will make a specialty of showing the latest New York creations simultaneously with their first appearance in the metropolis.

Street, Dress, Sports and Garden hats attract the attention of the visitor to the new Reich & Lievre store—and get it, for such charming millinery cannot well escape attention, especially from the feminine eye.

Accused Ship Builders Refuse to Enter Plea

WASHINGTON, March 31.—C. W. Morse, wealthy shipbuilder, his three sons and eight associates, recently indicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud the shipping board, refused to plead either guilty or not guilty when arraigned in the supreme court of the district here today. Their attorneys then filed demurrers and motions to quash the indictment, asserting the charges of alleged fraud were vague and indefinite. Arguments will be heard April 7.

Novelties Galore To Supply Added Touch to Gowns

The modern American woman has worked down to a science the eternal problem of "change" in apparel, for to feel well-dressed one must not look the same on every appearance. Economy is necessary as a general rule, for every woman cannot afford the luxury of a wardrobe sufficiently extensive to permit the many required changes. Accordingly the sharp buyer relies upon the small accessories to give a different appearance to the same garment. And for this purpose Neckwear, Handkerchiefs and Veiling carry the brunt of the burden.

The woman who knows how to choose can work wonders by a careful matching up of these three essentials—by the judicious use of anyone of the three separately. Neckwear especially offers many opportunities for the "freshening up" of a costume, as a visit to this department of the new Reich & Lievre store will prove. Vestees of lace and organdies, in white, ecru, ivory, and the gayest of the new Spring shades, are being shown extensively, as are washable vestees of gingham in varied colors. There was a time, not so long ago, that collars, cuffs and vestees were used only on suits and wool dresses, but no longer. The California girl has shown her versatility by making full use of these versatile accessories and now employs them in every imaginable way; with suits, dresses, sports apparel, sweaters—almost every outer garment.

Handkerchiefs also have won a prominent place in the styles and are no longer articles of mere utility. The advent of the Sports Handkerchief has been eagerly seized upon for the matching or harmonizing of colors or for supplying the bright spot of color so essential to present day styles. Reich & Lievre was quick to recognize this fact and the new store offers a variety that will answer every requirement.

French veiling leads in popularity, and no wonder, for the Veiling Department shows that by the dexterous placement of draping the veil will add immeasurably to the appearance of a hat and will invariably metamorphose an old into a new one.

Stokes' Accusation Denied by N. Y. Man

NEW YORK, March 31.—Philip M. Lydig yesterday denied the allegation made by W. E. S. Stokes, millionaire hotel man, in a letter to Mrs. Philip Lydig, to the effect that he (Lydig) had been intimate with Mrs. Helen Edwood Stokes. Lydig is in Europe, and the statement was issued through his attorney here.

"I have never been acquainted with the present Mrs. Stokes," Lydig said. "Furthermore, I have never met W. E. S. Stokes." Samuel Untermyer, attorney for Mrs. Stokes in her suit against the hotel man for the restoration of her dower rights, read the letter containing the charges in court Tuesday. Mrs. Lydig was married to Philip M. Lydig after she had divorced Stokes, her first husband. She subsequently divorced Lydig.

FAIRYLAND OF BEAUTY FOR CHILDREN'S NEEDS

Do you believe in Fairyland? You will after a visit to the new Children's Department of Reich & Lievre's new store, for here a wonder-world is opened to the vision of adults and a child's paradise to the little ones. The Children's Department, which makes its debut with the opening of the new store, is a revelation in progressive merchandising, a veritable department store catering to the needs of the infant, the little sister, and the girl up to fourteen years—a store within a store, the same as the child's life is a life within the life of the parent.

First and foremost, a child, be it a female child, is never too young to escape the appeal of style, for she does not recognize it herself, her mother does. Indeed, what new mother does not believe that her baby's clothes are more important than her own? And what girl who has reached the discretion of three or four years does not know that clothes do make the woman? Reich & Lievre's has studied the needs of both children and mothers and the new department has been designed with the view of making both supremely happy. The newest and most up-to-date wearing apparel will be displayed at all times: Hats, Wraps, Dresses, Sports Apparel of every description, as well as Underwear of all kinds to suit every type of growing girl, and, of course, the most entrancing wardrobes of all—layettes.

And to complete the circle of childhood comfort and contentment, a complete line of nursery furniture, toys, books and gifts will be carried in stock. If one has any doubt as to what to give on the occasion of the advent of a new baby, or for anniversaries, holidays, parties, or any other of the important fete days of childhood, a glimpse into this new department will dissolve all doubts.

A children's department must be more than a store; it must be a service station for those treading the most interesting part of life's journey. The Reich and Lievre Children's Department will have a trained nurse in attendance at all times. She will gladly advise all expectant mothers in regard to every needful preparation for the coming event, and after the baby has cooed its first greeting to the waiting world it is planned to establish a weekly clinic, where a baby can be weighed and special advice and lectures given to mother.

And that is not all, for Miss Two-to-Six must be entertained, as well as Baby Brother and the older children. Regular story tellers, hours will be a feature at Reich & Lievre's, and children's entertainments and parties will be frequent events. At these juvenile social affairs suitable souvenirs will be given to every child attending.

Not forgetting the grown-up friends and relatives who wish to remember the "arrival" of baby, Reich & Lievre's will carry a complete line of gifts, decorations, invitations and announcement cards for the popular "stork parties" or "baby showers." A large stock for decorative purposes will be supplied for the festive occasions. A record system of every party will be kept as a guarantee against any duplication of gifts.

Fairyland has come into its own.

The eyes have it, in Fashion's popularity contest—for with the shortness of the skirts, and the sheer beauty of the hosiery, and the captivating new styles in footwear, the modern girl knows that she is seen from the ground up; and that if she is to pass the muster in the style promenade she must be well-dressed from head to foot. Accordingly she puts her best foot forward and sees to it that it is shod in footwear that keeps step with the latest developments of the vogue.

Catering to every adequate need of every woman, Reich & Lievre's has added a complete Footwear Department to its new and enlarged store. Here the women of the East Bay section will be assured of every new style trend in novelty and sports footwear together with thoroughly adequate selections of all the conservative models for street or dress wear. For it is the intention of the new Footwear Department to carry in stock the exact footwear to suit the tastes and requirements of every type woman and junior girl.

One of the many attractive models to be seen in the new department is the "Mary Garden," a unique design in pumps for afternoon wear. The "Mary Garden" is in Patent Colt, among the smartest materials and colors of the season. It has the popular wide strap and fastens with a buckle. The heels are of box wood and are only 1 1/2 inches high. Embroidered in the make-up of the "Mary Garden" pump are a majority of the premier style points of Spring: Design, material, color wide strap, buckle and low heel.

The opening displays of the new footwear department are decidedly interesting.

All-Oakland Shopping Palace Formally Opens Doors Tomorrow Night

Company Proves Faith in Alameda County's Future by Tremendous Investment for Structure Here Without Peer in West

The opening of the new Reich & Lievre store, at 1530 Broadway, tomorrow night, gives to Oakland an institution that is without a peer on the entire Pacific Coast, and a store of which Oakland can be doubly proud, because in every essential it is Oakland's own—Oakland built, by Oakland contractors, with Oakland labor and Oakland materials and supplies.

Oakland managed, the entire personnel, from the general manager to the last errand boy, is a resident of Alameda county—and always will be.

Novel Ki-Ki Bag But One of Many Handsome Styles

KI-KI is a name to conjure with—and the new Ki-Ki bag promises to live up to its illustrious namesake, the exaggeratedly attractive little Parisian that was the first of the line. For the Ki-Ki bears a strong family resemblance to the original Ki-Ki. It is unique, refreshingly different from anything else of the kind; yet it stands put together and will undergo any usage for which it is intended.

The Ki-Ki bag is one of the novelties featured at the new Handbag Department of Reich & Lievre's. It is to be had in fancy figured silk over an oddly carved frame. The silk lining is generously shirred and it contains a purse and mirror. In either black or navy the Ki-Ki bag is extremely smart. While the Ki-Ki bag promises to make many friends among the women of the Eastbay section, it is not without rivals, for the new Handbag Department contains a host of attractive styles that are making their debut for the Spring season. The new Handbag Department joins the Reich & Lievre service with the promise of becoming one of its most prominent features.

World's Markets Combed in Hunt For 'New' Gloves

For the woman who seeks novelties in style to lend an air of distinctive individuality, the Reich & Lievre Glove Department has searched the markets of the world, and this new department that makes its advent with the opening of the new store introduces—

The Bracelet Glove. It is a new creation of Paris that is being shown for the first time here, and that has never been shown on the coast before, as yet made its appearance in only a few exclusive shops in New York.

The Bracelet Glove is a gauntlet style, having a strap at the wrist which is fastened with one mother-of-pearl button. It is made of the finest imported white kid, and extending up from the wrist to the top of the gauntlet are three strands of black and white silk hand crocheted embroidery occurring in wide bands. These strands encircle the wrist like bracelets, giving it a decidedly novel and piquant effect.

The Bracelet Glove was a pronounced success from its first appearance in Paris—which was a recent occurrence. It is the latest in dressed women of the French style center instantly adopting it as the season's vogue.

Reich & Lievre's is now having the Bracelet Glove made in various colors, to match the new suits, dresses and sports apparel. This is only one of the season's novelties shown at the new glove department, the complete stock being replete with styles to suit every individual taste and requirement.

For the intimate articles of apparel the new store at Reich & Lievre's has left no effort undone, and the Silk Underwear Department ranks in importance with any other in the eyes of millinery. Many ravishing creations in undershirts are displayed, each one seemingly more beautiful than the others. One set of gown, envelope and bloomers that attracted the attention of the shopper was created in Crepe Suprenant, a material of fine cashmere trimmed with real Irish hand-made lace. Others are embellished with real flet lace. But the scope of beauty in undershirts in infite and upon are dozens and dozens of new ideas in the multitude of styles. There is always something new under the sun and always something new to go under the dress.

Novelty Jewelry in Glorious Abundance

In the cycle of fashion jewelry again has come into its own. Not since the Victorian period of bouffancy and elaborate jewelry has My Lady of Fashion so adorned herself with gauds of metal or brightly colored stones. The gent who whose duty it is to see that the gay trinkets are in vogue, in waiting for the shopper of today calls for every sports evolved many novelties for the Spring season, and none promises to achieve greater popularity than the Sports Read Necklaces that make their appearance in Oakland for the opening of the new Novelty Jewelry Department, an addition to the enlarged Reich & Lievre store. Color is the watchword in the coming season, and color accordingly predominates in the new sports bead necklaces. They are shown in many attractive combinations as well as solid colors, in ambers, greens, crystal, reds, blues—in fact, for every shade of the season. They are finished with either tassel or pendant drops.

Novelty earrings bid for even greater popularity than last season, and they promise to gain it from innate attractiveness as well as from style demands. Loops, pear shapes and knobs are winning most favor, will be devoted to emerald and turquoise, and color accordingly predominates in the new sports bead necklaces. They are shown in many attractive combinations as well as solid colors, in ambers, greens, crystal, reds, blues—in fact, for every shade of the season. MONUMENT TO GROWTH.
The only element that entered into the inception and fulfillment of this great undertaking is the capital, and so firm is the faith of the firm of Reich & Lievre in the future progress of Oakland and Alameda county that it had no hesitancy in making this tremendous investment, giving to Oakland the greatest monument to the growth of this progressive Alameda county, the continued progress of Alameda county to justify its faith.

The general manager of the new store is J. J. Such, for many years associated with the firm of Reich & Lievre and for the past two years general manager of the San Francisco store. Such has purchased a home in Oakland, and about two months ago changed his residence, moving his family to this side of the bay and becoming a permanent resident.

ALL-EASTBAY STAFF.

"In getting together my organization for the new store," said Such, "I have preserved intact the organization of the old Oakland store of Reich & Lievre. This organization composed entirely of residents of Alameda county, with the superb organization as a nucleus, I have continued to build with Alameda county residents, so that the enlarged and completed organization is composed of Alameda county citizens to the last man, woman and boy."

"It is an organization of which I am proud, and of which Oakland must be proud, because I believe that in all my experience as a retail merchandiser I have never seen a store organization that can surpass this one. They are the kind of people that I am proud to have associated with, and I am proud to have whom Alameda county residents will find great pleasure in transacting their business. Courtesy and service have been the watchwords in their training, and will be the watchwords in their dealings with the public."

"MY CITY OAKLAND."
"Oakland is the most prosperous city on the Pacific coast today, and Reich & Lievre has built an institution that is worthy of the present greatness and future promise of this metropolis. In the continued growth of the Eastbay section it is the purpose of Reich & Lievre to occupy a prominent position. We intend not only to reflect that growth, but to help it, to do everything that we can to further the progress and prosperity of 'My City Oakland.'"

In the future it will be unnecessary for any Alameda county woman to go outside Oakland to shop, for the new store at Reich & Lievre's is a stock that will at all times carry the latest in style, quality of manufacture, and modernness of design, will compare with any in San Francisco, New York or any of the other large cities of the East or West. Every new idea will be shown here simultaneously with its first appearance. It means the realization of the long-cherished dream of the Reich & Lievre organization, with the numerous stores in California cities that are enjoyed by few other cities of its size in the country.

"REICH AND LIEVRE THE LATEST."
"Reich and Lievre has built a large buying organization in New York that is constantly in touch with the style producers in Paris; London, New York and other fashion organization always with the latest. No other store is able to display the new apparel none will be able to display it in larger quantities. The opening of our new buildings will have a home in Oakland that enables us to do here what the Reich and Lievre store has done in San Francisco, and that is, matter of merchandising history."

Such is a confirmed Oakland booster. "In coming here to live," he added, "it means the realization of an old ambition. I have always loved Oakland; I believe it is the prettiest, finest, and most hustling city on the coast. And I say that because I have lived here since I was a child. I am not only satisfied to be here; I am jubilant."

Stanford Fund Drive Launched

The "three cities" campaign among Stanford men and women for the university's million dollar endowment campaign is in full swing today. Herman Rittigstein, class of 1910, has been selected as chairman of the campaign organization for the year. Headquarters have been established at the Hotel Oakland.

Through the co-operation of the alumni organizations in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, an effort will be made personally to reach every Stanford man and woman with the university's financial appeal. It is estimated that there are more than 100 alumni in the Eastbay communities.

It is the purpose, eventually, to carry the campaign into every alumni center throughout the country. "The First Million" now being solicited, will be devoted to endowment purposes that will enable the university to pay adequate salaries to its teaching staff.

LIBRARY GETS CASH FOR BOOK OUT 61 YEARS

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 31.—Sixty-one years ago a copy of "Walter Thornby," a novel by Mrs. T. Sedgwick, was borrowed from the shelves of the New Rochelle public library. Yesterday the librarian received a check for $20 in part payment for the overdue charges on the volume and a note asking that the money be used to purchase new books.

"Walter Thornby," however, was not returned.

Enclosed with the note, written by a woman, was a frayed strip of paper dated September 23, 1861, and asking the return of the book at the "earliest convenience" of the borrower.

Marshal Joffre, his wife and daughter and two aides, will stay at the Washington street home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Spreckels during their sojourn in San Francisco.

STANFORD NURSES' HOME DEDICATED

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 31.—Formal dedication exercises for the new Stanford Nurses' Home in San Francisco were held this afternoon. Members of the Stanford board of trustees, faculty, San Francisco physicians and others were in attendance.

The services were opened by the invocation given by Rev. D. Charles Gardner, university chaplain. Following this the building was presented to the University by President William Mayo Newhall, in behalf of the Stanford board of trustees.

The speech of acceptance was made by President Ray Lyman Wilbur.

The address of the afternoon was made by Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley, of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the American Nurses' Association. Mrs. Greeley is interested in the movement for political rank for women and drafted the recent law passed by congress which gave military rank to army nurses.

There was an inspection of the building by the visitors after the speaking. Tonight the nurses will hold a reception and dance for their friends in the new structure.

The Stanford Nurses' Home was built at a cost of $455,000 and is said to be one of the best buildings of its kind in the United States. It is located at 2340 Clay street, across the street from the Stanford hospital. The new building will be operated in conjunction with the Stanford hospitals.

On its removal to the larger and better quarters that it has been our pride and interest to build for them.

The growth of Oakland is of paramount interest to us. We realize that the prosperity of all Oakland merchants is intertwined with the city's progress.

For this reason we gladly consented to erect one of the finest buildings in the West for a competitive firm in order that Oakland business institutions might keep pace with the city's growth and the desires and needs of our people be satisfied at home stores.

It is our wish and it will be our delight that every hope and anticipation of success entertained by Reich & Lievre in the new location be fully realized.

"Buying Power"

The Secret of Reich & Lievre Values
The Reason for Our Great Success

THE cornerstone of the structure upon which has been reared the entire business of Reich & Lievre, extending in its entirety over the length and breadth of California, with stores conveniently located in the various important cities, bears the single word—VALUES. For it has been the faithful carrying out of the ideal expressed in that one magic word that has made possible the unprecedented growth of this organization. "Better Values" has been our motto from the day of the inception of this business—"Better Values" attained through the exercise of our tremendous Buying Power; our numerous outlets enabling us to buy for less in larger quantities, and to sell for less by greater volume. Our New Store will increase our "Buying Power," for with this tremendous enlargement of our business our annual volume will be correspondingly increased—GIVING TO THE WOMEN OF THE EAST BAY SECTION ABSOLUTE ASSURANCE THAT THE REICH & LIEVRE PRICES WILL BE LOWER THAN EVER; with the same high quality, in a beautiful new setting.

HUGE NEW STORE TRIBUTE TO ART OF ITS BUILDER

Structure Held Up As Model in Eastbay; Designed by William Knowles.

With the opening of the new Reich and Lievre building in Broadway tomorrow night a new leaf has been added to the laurel crown of William Knowles, architect and builder, in the opinion of his associates.

The new building is one of eight recently designed and constructed by Knowles and pointed to as models in Eastbay architectural circles. The others are the East Bay Water company's structure, the Hutchinson Annex, the Whitthorne and Swan store, the Pacific Gas and Electric building, the McCandless residence and the Philip T. Clark and John D. Eddy homes.

Work began on the present building on October 1 and was finished seventeen days ahead of the allotted time. This is considered a record for building as there were fifty-three rainy days, twenty-six Sundays and four holidays in the period.

Maiden, Rittigstein and company acted as agents for H. C. Capwell, the owner, and handled all negotiations in leasing the new building to Reich and Lievre.

The structure is of reinforced concrete walls, columns and beams, with special arrangement of wood joist to offset the shrinkage and economize in space. The front is ornamented terra cotta.

There are more than 45,000 square feet of floor space with oak floors and who has to his credit such large island show windows. The building is designed with an inner court.

PLUMBING FIXTURES BIG FEATURE OF NEW BUILDING

One of the finest installations of plumbing fixtures of its kind was done by the Scott Company of 331 Eleventh street in the new Reich and Lievre Store. All of the best materials and improved types were used throughout. The entire building is ventilated by mechanical means, insuring fresh clean air at all times. Air from the outside is blown through the building by large fans through steam heating coils in cold weather, and cooled in warm weather, making a modified and comfortable heat at all times. Steam radiators are also distributed throughout. There is also a special arrangement in the plumbing equipment to take care of the Hair Dressing parlor.

Among other large plumbing installations now being done by the Scott Company is the Technical High School, Hamilton School and other schools in this city, the Highland hospital, one of the largest installations on the Coast, besides many residences and apartment houses now under construction in this city as well as in different parts of the state. They are able to take care of this work by the means of up-to-date shop equipment, which permits them to handle all classes of work, also by carrying a large stock of materials. Geo. A. Schuster is local manager. Their phones are Oakland 6754 and Lakeside 1239.—Advertisement.

Fine Show Cases Are Made in Oakland

The very attractive main floor show cases and wall fixtures in the new Reich & Lievre store are Oakland products, representing the last word in this line of manufacture. They are the work of S. Kulchar & Co., of Eighth avenue and East Tenth street.

This firm, having a large, modern factory, plays prominent part in the improvement of Oakland stores, banks and offices.

S. Kulchar, numbered among the leading builders of his line in Central California, has been in business here for over twenty years. His factory has kept pace with the development of the city, being enlarged and equipped with modern machinery and being in charge of thoroughly skilled workmen.

The work done by S. Kulchar & Co. on this new building stands forth in distinctive manner, lending individuality to what is considered one of the best arranged stores in the city.

Mr. Kulchar makes a personal survey of a store, office, bank or building and submits designs for showcases, fixtures or whatever is needed. He also follows out to the minutest detail plans given him by patrons.

Aside from the work in this new building pictured herewith, Mr. Kulchar's firm has just completed the new work for Kahn's. The attractive store of Lem Williams, the Manheim & Mazor store and Gerwin's also represent contracts given to S. Kulchar & Co. For complete information on prices for showcases, fixtures, etc., call Merritt 104.—Advertisement.

CITY MOVES TO TERMINATE OLD ROW OVER FENCE

Surveys of the famous Sausal creek avenue and its fence were made yesterday by the city engineering force, preparatory to taking legal action to end the long-fought dispute which has caused that fence to be raised and taken down several times.

City Engineer W. W. Harmon, making an inspection of the terrain close to the scene of action, asserts that the Sausal fence and its gate must come down.

"The fence," he says, "shuts off a collection of houses which are situated on a high hill and have no egress except by this roadway. The roadway has been in use for years, although not recognized as such, and it should be handled by the city as a street. No one should have the right to close this roadway. I suspect that the fence is the result of a row among neighbors, but the city cannot recognize such a cause for blocking a roadway. Legal action will be instituted immediately to settle the whole business."

twenty-four by sixty-eight feet, extending from the first floor to the roof, with balustrades at the mezzanine, second and third floors.

Knowles was assisted by J. M. Thorp, a building superintendent, who has to his credit a uche large buildings as the Pantages and T. & D. theaters, the Oakland postoffice and several buildings in San Francisco. The lighting effects were installed by the Spencer Electric company of this city.

Elihu Root Visits Stanford Institute

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 31.—Elihu Root was a visitor on the campus yesterday afternoon, inspecting the Stanford Food Research Institute and other places. He is a director of the Carnegie Corporation, which established the institute at Stanford and one of the chief purposes of his visit was to get first-hand information concerning the progress it has made.

He was shown the building which houses in the institute in the quadrangle and the special space and reading room of the Hoover war collection which have been established in the Stanford Library for the use of the institute.

Root was the luncheon guest of President and Mrs. Wilbur, meeting the three directors of the Food Research Institute, Dr. Alonzo Taylor, Dr. Carl L. Aisberg, and Dr. Joseph S. Davis, and President William Mayo Newhall and Joseph Grant, of the Stanford Board of Trustees. He spoke informally at the president's house to members of the university community, who had received a general invitation to meet him.

K. OF C. DISCUSS SESSION PLANS

SANTA CRUZ, March 31.—The first of a series of official visits to the councils of the fifth district of the Knights of Columbus was made at Monterey last evening, when Grand Knight George S. Trust Jr., Deputy Grand Knight John M. O'Keefe, and Past Grand Knights Hugh J. Leonard, George E. Kenney and J. E. O'Connor of the local council were received by the council across the bay, and the coming state convention outlined in detail.

A large attendance greeted the Santa Cruz delegation, and after Tait had been introduced by Grand Knight Tealy of the Monterey Council, he in turn introduced O'Keefe in a short talk in which he commended the Monterey Council for the fine turnout. O'Keefe told of the preparations being made to make this year's meeting the greatest in the history of Columbianism in this state, and how Santa Cruz was anxious to make the affair a civic one, participated in by all the councils of Monterey, Salinas, Hollister, Watsonville and San Jose. He outlined the program, beginning with May 29 and the opening ball, and carried his hearers with him through the degree work and parade on Sunday, May 21, the sessions on May 22 and 23, and the other social events of the four days. His remarks were comprehensive, and great enthusiasm was aroused among the members.

Watsonville will be visited tonight, where several candidates will be initiated into the first degree.

DELINQUENT TAX LANDS TO BE SOLD

MARTINEZ, March 31.—Tax experts who are seeking a change in the method of disposing of property on which taxes have become delinquent will appear before the board of supervisors, probably at its next meeting, and urge that Tax Collector M. W. Joost be directed to sell all land at public auction and deeded to the State, according to announcement today by Joost.

The law, according to the collector, permits of the supervisors adopting such a course. There are now 400 parcels of land in Contra Costa on which taxes have become delinquent and have been deeded to the State after five years' delinquency. Funds derived from property thus sold could be diverted to county uses in the supervisor districts in which the land is located, it is said. Auction sales could be called as often as desired to dispose of the property, it is claimed.

TAMALPAIS ROAD FUND SUBSCRIBED

SAN RAFAEL, March 31.—Following the announcement early today that half of the necessary sum of $54,000 had been subscribed to the fund to build the proposed Mt. Tamalpais scenic boulevard, it became known that actual construction of the road would be started within a few days.

The Mt. Tamalpais-Ridgecrest Boulevard company, a corporation formed by several leading businessmen and sponsors of the project to finance the construction, has made surveys and it is expected that two gangs of workmen will be started simultaneously from each end in order to rush construction in time for the opening of the tourist season next May.

At the meeting yesterday a committee consisting of W. H. Symonds, R. A. Carey, William Deysher and L. Van Orden was appointed to sign up subscribers to the unsold portion of the stock.

Harbor Plans Are Told at Stockton

STOCKTON, March 31.—Proponents and opponents of a plan for the improvement of Stockton harbor, drawn by Harry Compton, former city engineer, and recently forwarded to the United States war department with the endorsement of the Stockton city council, were heard at a public hearing yesterday afternoon presided over by Colonel Herbert Deakne, district engineer for the rivers and harbor board.

City commissioners stood alone in the support of the plan which was opposed by the chamber of commerce and many prominent business men. Essentially the plan would not affect what is now known as Stockton channel but would eliminate McLeod's lake and Miner channel, in their stead provide a turning basin approximately of 670,000 square feet and a second channel somewhat larger than the present waterway used by river steamers. The data presented at the hearing will be presented to the secretary of war for consideration, and approval or disapproval of the plan.

BABY SLAYING IN CONGO NOW UNDER BELGIAN LAW

Cannibalism Also Completely Suppressed, Says Official of Country.

LONDON, March 31.—Strange superstitions, such as belief that the appearance of a baby's first teeth on the upper jaw was an ill-omen to the community, and that it had, therefore, to be murdered, were described by Dr. M. Horn, councillor of state for Belgium, in an address here on "Belgian Colonial Administration in the Congo."

This practice, as well as others like mutilation and cannibalism, is now punishable by law.

"The law also interfered," he said, "with native matrimonial customs. While a man may acquire a wife either by means of a dowry paid to her family, by inheritance, purchase, exchange or force of arms, no legal bond is deemed to exist between the alleged husband and the woman acquired without her consent."

Acquisition by means of a dowry is recognized in principle, but the second, third, etc., wife will be permitted to desert her husband, the state being prepared to refund the dowry if no other man has been the cause of her desertion. No compensation will be paid when the husband has been warned in due time as to the precarious nature of his rights in regard to "his new better fraction."

Dr. Horn said a large proportion of the Congo population was pitifully underfed and for this state of affairs European rule was partly responsible. Cannibalism had been suppressed.

MAN IS RESCUED FROM BRINK OF NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 31.—Jeffrey Wilson of Rochester was rescued last night from a rock in the Niagara river less than 200 feet from the brink of the American falls.

Employees at a trolley terminal station near the falls heard cries for help. They investigated and saw a form clinging to a rock near the middle of the American upper rapids and about 200 feet below Goat island bridge.

Police and firemen were called and efforts were made to reach the man with extension ladders, but all were too short.

While the firemen were working from the bridge, Patrolman Charles Smith waded out into the rapids. Fastened about him was a rope, which was held by Patrol Driver Charles Radford on the bank. Smith was caught in the current and swept from his feet, but regained his footing and worked his way to a rock a few feet from that to which Wilson was clinging. After a few minutes Wilson made the leap and the policeman caught him. The trip back to shore was a slow struggle against the swift current.

REDDING, Cal., March 31.—A statement that he was considering entering the Republican primaries in August for the nomination for representative in congress from the second district was made here today by Lewis Carrigan, secretary of the Northern counties association. MENTAL PACT OF MAN SAVES WOOD FOR BIG FOREST

Partnership With Nature Made 44 Years Ago Revealed By Man.

GLEN HAVEN, Mich., March 31.—A "partnership contract" with nature drawn up mentally by D. H. Day obliged him to let slip many opportunities to make money, but he saved him to develop from the young second growth on a tract that has been burnt over by fire a 1400-acre forest, which he expects "to stand for all time."

A state game refuge and a state park have been located in the forest.

"Nature can remedy the lumber shortage if we give her the chance," says Day. He summarized his "contract," formulated forty-four years ago, as follows:

"I agree to do everything in my power to assist nature in making this land produce lumber. I will cut only the largest of the trees, leaving the smaller ones to grow and produce others. I will keep the entire tract as free from fire hazards as possible, and will not resort to thinning of trees even though I might make bigger and quicker profits, because this would waste the young timber. I will so adjust my affairs that this tract forever will remain in its natural state, providing a source of revenue and at the same time adding to the joy of those who love the outdoors."

WOMAN SPEAKS DESPITE PROTEST

MADISON, Wis., March 31.—Despite the protests of American Legion posts throughout the state, Mrs. Kate O'Hare, socialist, who served several months in prison for violation of the Espionage act, delivered a speech in the assembly chamber of the state capitol last night.

Jeers and cat-calls greeted Lieutenant-Governor George F. Comings as he introduced Mrs. O'Hare. The tumult became so great that he was unable to make himself heard. The General Holway, who had been appointed by Governor John J. Blaine to keep order, had pleaded with the audience.

General Holway declared he did not intend to use force and that his only appeal was to the good sense and regard for law and order of those present. His plea proved effective, and when Mrs. O'Hare arose she was greeted with scattering applause. Her subject was "Crime and Socialism" and she did not touch on socialism or the opposition to her meeting.

RICHMOND, March 31.—The matter of making possible the sale of the San Pablo Sanitary District sewer bonds was put over until tomorrow night by the San Pablo board last night. The bid of the Bank of Richmond, which was the highest offered, was thrown out on account of cost of expert opinion regarding conditions attached to the bid.

All bids offered this week were for $35,000, but it is now believed that the work can be done for $24,000. At tomorrow night's meeting it is hoped to effect sale of the bonds and letting of the contract.

DEBATE OF WATER POWER BILL HELD IN ALAMEDA HALL

Proposed State Law Discussed Before Large Audience in Auditorium.

ALAMEDA, March 31.—The proposed California Water and Power act was debated by Horace Porter, former mayor of Riverside, and Eustace Cullinan, president of the Greater California League, last night before a large audience. The debate, sponsored by the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, took place in the Porter auditorium. The act is to be voted upon this coming November.

Carl Strom, president of the chamber of commerce, introduced City Attorney W. J. Locke, who presided. Porter spoke for the bill and Cullinan against it. In introducing the two speakers, Locke briefly reviewed the act and other bills designed for the utilization of California's hydro-electric power.

According to Porter, there is a demand at present for hydro-electric power such as the world has never known before, and in order to preserve our coal and oil, the development of the water power will have to follow. The power, however, he insisted, must be cheap power, and this could only be brought about through the development of the hydro sites. This power belongs by right to the people and should be developed by them. He cited the success of such action by telling what Riverside, Pasadena, Alameda and other California towns had accomplished in the public ownership and distribution of power, and told how England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland had all passed through the private ownership of utilities phase and had discarded them in favor of public ownership and operation. He also dwelt considerably upon the success of public power development with accompanying cheap water and power, in Ontario, Canada.

Cullinan in his address claimed that conditions in Ontario were far different from what they are in California. He also quoted figures to prove that the private rates were better than what were being given by the public-controlled plants. Porter in rebuttal stated that the low rates quoted by Cullinan were block rates to other corporations and not to the consumer.

Cullinan also explained that while the public corporation advocates were talking the private concerns had gone ahead, invested their millions of dollars in construction and had brought the power and water to the people at comparative low rates. He also attacked the form of the bill charging that it placed unlimited power in the hands of the commission and would result in tremendous expense to the people. He asserted also that it would not bring the cheap rates that its advocates were claiming. He asked justice for the men who had risked their money and reputations in bringing this water and power to the people. He also claimed that the public had complete control of the power companies through the working of the State Railroad Commission.

CLUB DISCUSSES EXPANSION OF PUBLIC PARKS

Gilky Tells Rotarians Oakland Should Start System of Beauty Spots.

The desirability of expanding Oakland's system of public parks, and of installing comfort stations was discussed yesterday at the luncheon of the Oakland Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland. Howard Gilky, city landscape engineer, urged the creation of small neighborhood parks of between ten and twenty acres in extent, and claimed that with the city's rapid expansion, the park problem would soon assume important proportions.

Wilbur Walker, in discussing the subject of comfort stations, said that plans are now under way for the installation of such a station on the Fourteenth street side of the City Hall.

J. H. McLaflerty addressed the club on "An American Creed." He stated that individuals did not know

Orchardist Is Found Dead Under Trees

SAN JOSE, March 31.—A strenuous search instituted shortly after 5 o'clock Wednesday evening for George G. McChesney, prominent orchardist of this city for a number of years, came to a tragic close early yesterday afternoon when deputy sheriffs and neighbors aiding in the search discovered his dead body lying in tall grass beneath the trees of his little orchard at Race and San Carlos streets. Death had apparently been due to heart failure, there being no evidence of violence.

McChesney had been plowing throughout Wednesday afternoon. About 5 o'clock that day he turned over his plow to his son and started for the house. From that time until his body was found yesterday nothing was seen of him. Death is believed to have been instantaneous, judging from the statements of Coroner Amos Williams.

RICHMOND, March 31.—The matter of making possible the sale of the San Pablo Sanitary District sewer bonds was put over until tomorrow night by the San Pablo board last night. The bid of the Bank of Richmond, which was the highest offered, was thrown out on account of cost of expert opinion regarding conditions attached to the bid.

All bids offered this week were for $35,000, but it is now believed that the work can be done for $34,000. At tomorrow night's meeting it is hoped to effect sale of the bonds and letting of the contract.

DEBATE OF WATER POWER BILL HELD IN ALAMEDA HALL

Proposed State Law Discussed Before Large Audience
in Auditorium.

ALAMEDA, March 31.—The proposed California Water and Power act was debated by Horace Porter, former mayor of Riverside, and Eustace Cullinan, president of the Greater California League, last night before a large audience. The debate, sponsored by the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, took place in the Port auditorium. The act is to be voted upon this coming November.

Carl Strom, president of the chamber of commerce, introduced City Attorney W. J. Locke, who presided. Porter spoke for the bill and Cullinan against it. In introducing the two speakers, Locke briefly reviewed the act and other bills designed for the utilization of California's hydro-electric power.

According to Porter, there is a demand at present for hydro-electric power such as the world has never known before, and in order to preserve our coal and oil, the development of the water power will have to follow. The power, he asserted, must be cheap power, and this could only be brought about through the development of the hydro sites. This power belongs by right to the people and should be developed by them. He cited the success of such action by telling how Riverside, Pasadena, Alameda and other California towns had accomplished in the public ownership and distribution of power, and told how England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland had all passed through the private ownership of utilities phase and had discarded them in favor of public ownership and operation. He also dwelt considerably upon the success of public power development with accompanying cheap water and power, in Ontario, Canada.

Cullinan also explained that while the public corporation advocates were talking the private concerns had gone ahead, invested their millions of dollars in construction and had brought the power and water to the people at comparative low rates. He also attacked the form of the bill charging that it placed unlimited power in the hands of the commission and would result in tremendous expense to the people. He asserted also that it would not bring the cheap rates that its advocates were claiming. He asked justice for the men who had risked their money and reputations in bringing this water and power to the people. He also claimed that the public had complete control of the power companies through the working of the State Railroad Commission.

We were the first large store established in this section of Broadway—and we prophesied then that upper Broadway would be the heart of the City of Oakland. This prophecy has been realized.

Remi Knight Betrothed to Ventura Girl

Cards have been received from Ventura county announcing the betrothal of Miss Ruth Jannette Rogers, daughter of Superior Judge Merle Rogers of that county, and Remi Chabot Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart Knight of Piedmont. Both Miss Rogers and her fiancé are graduates of the University of California. Knight served with the Fourth Engineers overseas during the war. Knight is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Remi Chabot, and a nephew of Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn and Mrs. Leon Bocqueruz.

No date is set for the wedding.

CARDS OUT FOR BRIDGE.
Invitations are out for a bridge party which Miss Elva Ghirardelli will give the afternoon of April 21 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Louis Ghirardelli on Vernon Heights. A large number of the younger set have been bidden.

Another bridge for which cards came out today is that which Mrs. Noble Newsom will give at the Berkeley Country club the afternoon of April 26. Sixty friends of the hostess have been asked for that date. There will be no honor guest.

Mrs. Grace Hunt Ewing will entertain the members of a bridge club at her home on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Howard Foote, who makes her home at the Peralta apartments, will entertain forty of the ladies of the Sequoyah Country club at luncheon in the ballroom of the Peralta the afternoon of Thursday, April 13.

SERIES OF BRIDGE AFTERNOONS.
Mrs. Roy L. Shurtleff will entertain at a series of bridge afternoons at her home on Euclid avenue next month. April 5 the hostess will have a dozen intimate friends for luncheon and bridge. On April 12 half a hundred guests will play bridge for the afternoon diversion, and on April 19 another coterie, a score or more, will again be assembled for bridge.

A number of informal luncheons are practically all of the social diversions in view for the last of the Lenten period, the near approach of Holy Week being the incentive for the putting aside of all pleasure.

Mrs. George Reynolds O'Connor has sent out cards for a luncheon which she will give at her home in honor of Miss Everard Hunt, betrothed of Reuben Hills of San Francisco the afternoon of April 11.

Miss Dorothy Desford is another bride-elect, who will be the guest of honor at a bridge luncheon which Miss Helen Beattie will give at her home in San Jose April 8. Twenty-four of the friends and sorority sisters of the hostess and bride-elect are to motor to the Garden city for the affair.

Tuesday, April 4, Mrs. Jack O'Connor will entertain at the Bates home in Central avenue in honor of Miss Dorothy Stupphen betrothed of Hubert Williams Starr of this city. April 8 Mrs. Irving Humphrey will be hostess at tea at the home of her mother Mrs. C. E. Bain in Santa Rey avenue, this city.

BETROTHAL IS ANNOUNCED SOUTH.
The engagement of Miss Anne Roberts and Guy Wolverson of Los Angeles has just been announced. Miss Roberts and her mother, Mrs. W. B. Roberts, spent some time at the Hotel Oakland last year but have been wintering at the Ambassador in Los Angeles.

The wedding is to be solemnized in the hotel April 29 after which Wolverson and his bride will reside in Los Angeles where the benedict-elect is established in business.

Miss Roberts is an attractive member of the younger set of Portland, Oregon, the former home of the family. She attended eastern schools. While visiting her future sister-in-law, Miss Edith High, betrothed of James Roberts, she was the motif for several smart affairs.

Tomorrow afternoon the last of the college teas of the current academic year will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock in Hearst Hall. Mrs. Louis J. Paetow will be hostess and receiving will be President and Mrs. David Prescott Barrows of the University of California, President emeritus and Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Professor and Mrs. Nathaniel L. Gardner and Professor and Mrs. Louis J. Paetow.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Frank Daniels, Mrs. Carl C. Plohn, Mrs. William A. Sutcliffe, Mrs. Eugene McCormac, Mrs. Charles A. Noble, Mrs. Frederick P. Gay and Mrs. Florian Cajori.

TO MEET STANFORD DEAN.
Mrs. James Telford Hamilton and her daughter, Miss Vera Hamilton, are to be hostesses at a buffet luncheon at their home in Avalon road the afternoon of April 17. They will have as their guest of honor Miss Mary Tost, who is dean of women at Stanford University. About one hundred have been invited.

A party for the children of high school and intermediate age will be given this evening at the Town and Gown club in Berkeley. The children are those of the club members. "A Country Fair" will be presented by the children and dancing will follow. Many original features have been arranged for their entertainment.

Mrs. James Dunn of Alameda, who is chairman of Pencil Day, April 29, in that city, was hostess Tuesday at luncheon at her home to a group of matrons interested in the Ladies Relief benefit. Mrs. Dunn will have a group of the younger girls to assist her in canvassing the city.

Floods Crumbling Mississippi Levees
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE
HELENA, Ark., March 31.—The situation at Old Town, Ark., 17 miles south of here where the first line levees along the Mississippi river are crumbling under the attack of the strong flood waters was described as being critical today. Two additional feet of levee was reported by government engineers to have caved in early today and the strong current from the Mississippi side was said to be eating its way under the levee on the Arkansas side.

Gilky Tells Rotarians Oakland Should Start System of Beauty Spots.

The desirability of expanding Oakland's system of public parks, and of installing comfort stations was discussed yesterday at the luncheon of the Oakland Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland. Howard Gilky, city landscape engineer, urged the creation of small neighborhood parks of between ten and twenty acres in extent, and claimed that with the city's rapid expansion, the park problem would soon assume important proportions.

Wilbur Walker, in discussing the subject of comfort stations, said that plans are now under way for the installation of such a station on the Fourteenth street side of the City Hall.

J. H. McLafferty addressed the club on "An American Creed." He stated that individuals did not know

Orchardist Is Found Dead Under Trees

SAN JOSE, March 31.—A strenuous search instituted shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening for George O. McChesney, prominent orchardist of this city for a number of years, came to a tragic close early yesterday afternoon when a deputy sheriff and neighbors aiding in the search discovered his dead body lying in tall grass beneath the trees of his little orchard at Race and San Carlos streets. Death had apparently been due to heart failure, there being no evidence of violence.

McChesney had been plowing throughout Wednesday afternoon. About 5 o'clock that day he turned over his plow to his son and started for the house. From that time until his body was found yesterday nothing was seen of him. Death is believed to have been instantaneous, judging from the statements of Coroner Amos Williams.

A widow, two sons and two daughters are left to mourn the sad passing of the deceased, as well as a host of friends here.

Enough of the genius and traditions of the country, and urged that the Constitution of the United States should be taught in all the schools throughout the land.

"No woman ever takes another woman's advice about frocks," "Naturally. You don't ask the enemy how to win the war."

RIGHTS OF DISCOVERY.

The latest exploring news is that Stefansson, who not long ago was here giving details in lectures of previous expeditions, has planted the British flag on Wrangell Land. He is a British subject through being a citizen of Canada, though he is a native of Iceland.

It is figured that this performance was inspired from Canadian sources, to establish rights to the fur industry and trading privileges with Siberia, which may develop in importance.

The fact that the United States government takes note of the proceeding "without comment" has been interpreted to mean that it reserves the right to take action if it shall occur that the same is desirable.

For if discovery conveys rights to a new land, this country is entitled to consideration. More than forty years ago, when it sent a vessel to find the Jeanette party, the crew landed on Wrangell Land, the American flag was run up and a bottle containing a record of the visit deposited in a cairn.

The facts as to Stefansson's proceeding do not excite the nations at the present time, because it is not considered that Wrangell Land will prove a bone worthy of an international "wangle." It lies far north of Siberia and west of Bering Strait, and its climate and resources, except as to polar bears and other furbearing animals, are not considered to be alluring.

Still we should remember how far from properly gauging these northern regions the people of this country, and even of countries more familiar with them, were no longer ago than at the time of the Seward purchase of Alaska. This purchase, at a price of seven millions, was roundly ridiculed, and now consider its value, with development not fairly begun.

New lands that may be taken possession of by planting a national flag are now very scarce, and it may be that resources remain to be discovered on Wrangell Land of such value as to justify this country in setting up its prior right.

THE HASTENING STYLES.

A dangerous precedent has been set by a jury of women in Evanston, Illinois. It is one to make for an acceleration of color cycles, a multiplication of expense, and a quickening of domestic pulses. This jury has decided, after a most interesting deliberation, that a woman's gown more than four weeks old is out of style.

A number of issues came into the case. There was a plaintiff, for instance, a judge and a lawyer who allowed the masculine viewpoint to creep into his appeal. The jury was told that if dresses are to become worthless with the passing of a month a break-neck counter-race may be expected in finance, manufacture, and ambitions. Then the gown spoke its silent language of cut and color, and the jury retired to discuss it. No flounce or bit of insertion in the evidence was overlooked; the verdict was unanimous and emphatic.

There would appear to be nothing left for an ever-hurried world but another quickening stride. Styles are to change with the moon and the monthly pay check. There is nothing to lose but composure; variety and beauty are to be gained.

A good deal of consideration is being given a medical report that treats upon the war strain on military officers. It is represented that there is undoubted evidence of physical deterioration because of the unusual experience undergone in the great conflict. High blood pressure, subnormal blood pressure, lowered resistance to infectious diseases, instability of the nervous system, unnatural tendency to worry, tendency toward increased introspection and mental exaggeration of trifling physical ills, are some of the symptoms. Poison gas and shell shock are concomitants that figured in no previous war, and bombing airplanes and destructive submarines were never before encountered.

tered. The nerves of fighting men had a good deal more to withstand than ever before, and if they emerged more than ordinarily shaken there may not be far to go for the cause.

BURYING THE HAMMER.

Advertising clubs of seventeen cities on the Pacific Coast are agreed in a program of unity. The "knocker" is to be discouraged and the merits of the coast extolled to the benefits of each of the cities.

There is no need for a pretense of surprise at the intimation there has been "knocking" between rival cities. There is a regrettable record of it written, in some of its chapters, into the present year.

For the most part, though, this "knocking" has been of the good-natured sort which becomes an asset. There is no question but Los Angeles, for instance, has won valuable publicity from the many jokes concerning its boasting sons.

When men are paid to inform tourists, the year around, that all of the northern passes through the Sierra are closed by snow and when the hotel men of one city consider it a part of their business and duty to warn travelers against visiting another, there is evidenced this knocking which the Advertising Clubs would stop. It has shown its envious form again when one community bids against another for a commercial enterprise.

Healthy rivalry should continue. The seventeen cities, asked not to belittle one another, should continue to tell the world of their peculiar advantages as well as of the bounties all share with situation on the Pacific Coast.

If the Advertising Clubs' program succeeds it is not too much to hope that knocking within the cities shall stop, that civic organizations shall not be jealous of one another and that the newcomer will not be met by men who seek his attention by disparaging their competitors.

THE MENNONITE HEGIRA.

The moving of 25,000 Mennonites from Canada to Mexico has commenced, and is one of the most remarkable treks of modern times. They have purchased 50,000 acres in Chihuahua, and have options on 150,000 additional acres. Railroad men estimate that it will require 3500 cars to move the colony, and that it will cost upwards of a million dollars.

The cause of this radical change of base on the part of this strange sect, exchanging the climate of a region considerably to the north of the United States for the climate to be found considerably to the south of it, and a government entirely stable for one that is subject to violent change over night, is their religious belief and their non-combatant proclivities. These were offended and aroused during the war by the draft. Also their objection to their children being taught any language but their own, and to paying a school tax, since they maintain their own schools.

They refuse to grow up with the country, at least as an integral part of it. They had been in Canada many years, and are just as aloof from the customs and laws of the country today as they were when they first arrived.

In one respect the Mennonites would find conditions in this country to their liking. They are particularly abstemious as to liquor, banning it absolutely. They are hard workers and generally thrifty. Being so many of them, and keeping so entirely to themselves, virtually having their own government, is presumed to have caused them to feel that they will be able to make out in a Mexican environment, notwithstanding the many examples they must have of the people there, in their frequent revolutions, appropriating the accretions of industrious colonies.

All in all, it is a remarkable trek in many respects. It illustrates what a people will do under the impulse of religious zeal and ingrained custom. It ought to be a welcome immigration to Mexico. The Mennonites do not participate in government affairs, bother nobody and only require to be let alone. When Mexico gets a government sufficiently stable to let law-abiding people alone these new colonists may have found a haven to their liking.

The enterprise of those behind the new German steamship lines in sending steamers to this port may be commendable, but their judgment in giving vessels composing the lines such names as "General Ludendorff," "Admiral von Tirpitz" and "General von Buelow" is open to question, especially as the vessels were built and named after the war, and the gentlemen bearing these names had lost out in no uncertain way.

Roswell Miller, Carnegie's son-in-law, is carrying out the Carnegie traditions. He is in a way to command vast wealth, and was offered a big and financially advantageous business connection; but having an ambition to teach civil engineering he refused it and joined the staff of the New York University. The late Scotch Croesus would undoubtedly applaud this act if he were here.

That Lillian Russell should become a special immigration inspector and be sent abroad to study the subject is something of a tax on the credulity of a theater-going public which remembers her as a long-time stage star in piffing opera. It shows how an artist may confuse the public estimation of her capabilities and predilections.

Come in the garden, Pearl.
Out in the springtime sun;
And while you turn the soil, girl,
I'll tell you how it's done.

Bring a hoe and spade, dear,
A rule and line you'll need;
And I'll stand in the shade, dear,
And take care of the seed.

And we will bring new wonders
Up to our garden plot;
I'll see you make no blunders—
And you will learn a lot.

According to the word from Davis, Molly's Pete, the famous Marathon cow, will not run this year. The press agents, who accompanied her on the typewriter must still be exhausted.

Lloyd George is ready to resign. Most everybody feels that way after digging potatoes.

Boyd B. Rakestraw of the University of California Extension Division will have to move over into the Agricultural Department to get into the club.

We often think of fizzle-bangs
And other false alarms;
Each time the Pelican comes out
The girls are "up in arms."

A Livermore couple announced their engagement by radio. A new sort of sparking party.

Up to a certain point we were greatly interested in that "spook" story from Los Angeles. The spook, you will remember, was guest of honor at a dinner. Unseen of any save one or two gifted with clairvoyant powers, he made a speech which they interpreted. We were interested in any shade which would come back to earth to deliver a speech and it sounded reasonable enough, to have him hold forth in a southern cafeteria. Then someone asked the spook what the climate was like in heaven and he answered: "It is just like that of Los Angeles." In the North we achieve solid effects, like the Chico rocks, but in the South, they are artists.

The man who wrote the gay spring song
Just one short week ago,
Is beating carpets and his joy
Has given place to woe.

Spring Reaches Murphy's.
(Murphy's Happings in Calaveras Prospect.)

A little touch of Spring at last. Sunday was one of those perfect days, although March mosquitoes are coming to life all about town, very unwelcome, but part of nature and spring. The frogs are croaking, birds get acquainted, people getting better and more cheerful. So spring is coming, cheer up everybody!

Bumper Crops.
Of oats and rye
And all such stuff,
We know we'll have More than enough.
—N. Y. Sun.

And soon we'll know
By all the rules,
How great the crop
Of April fools.

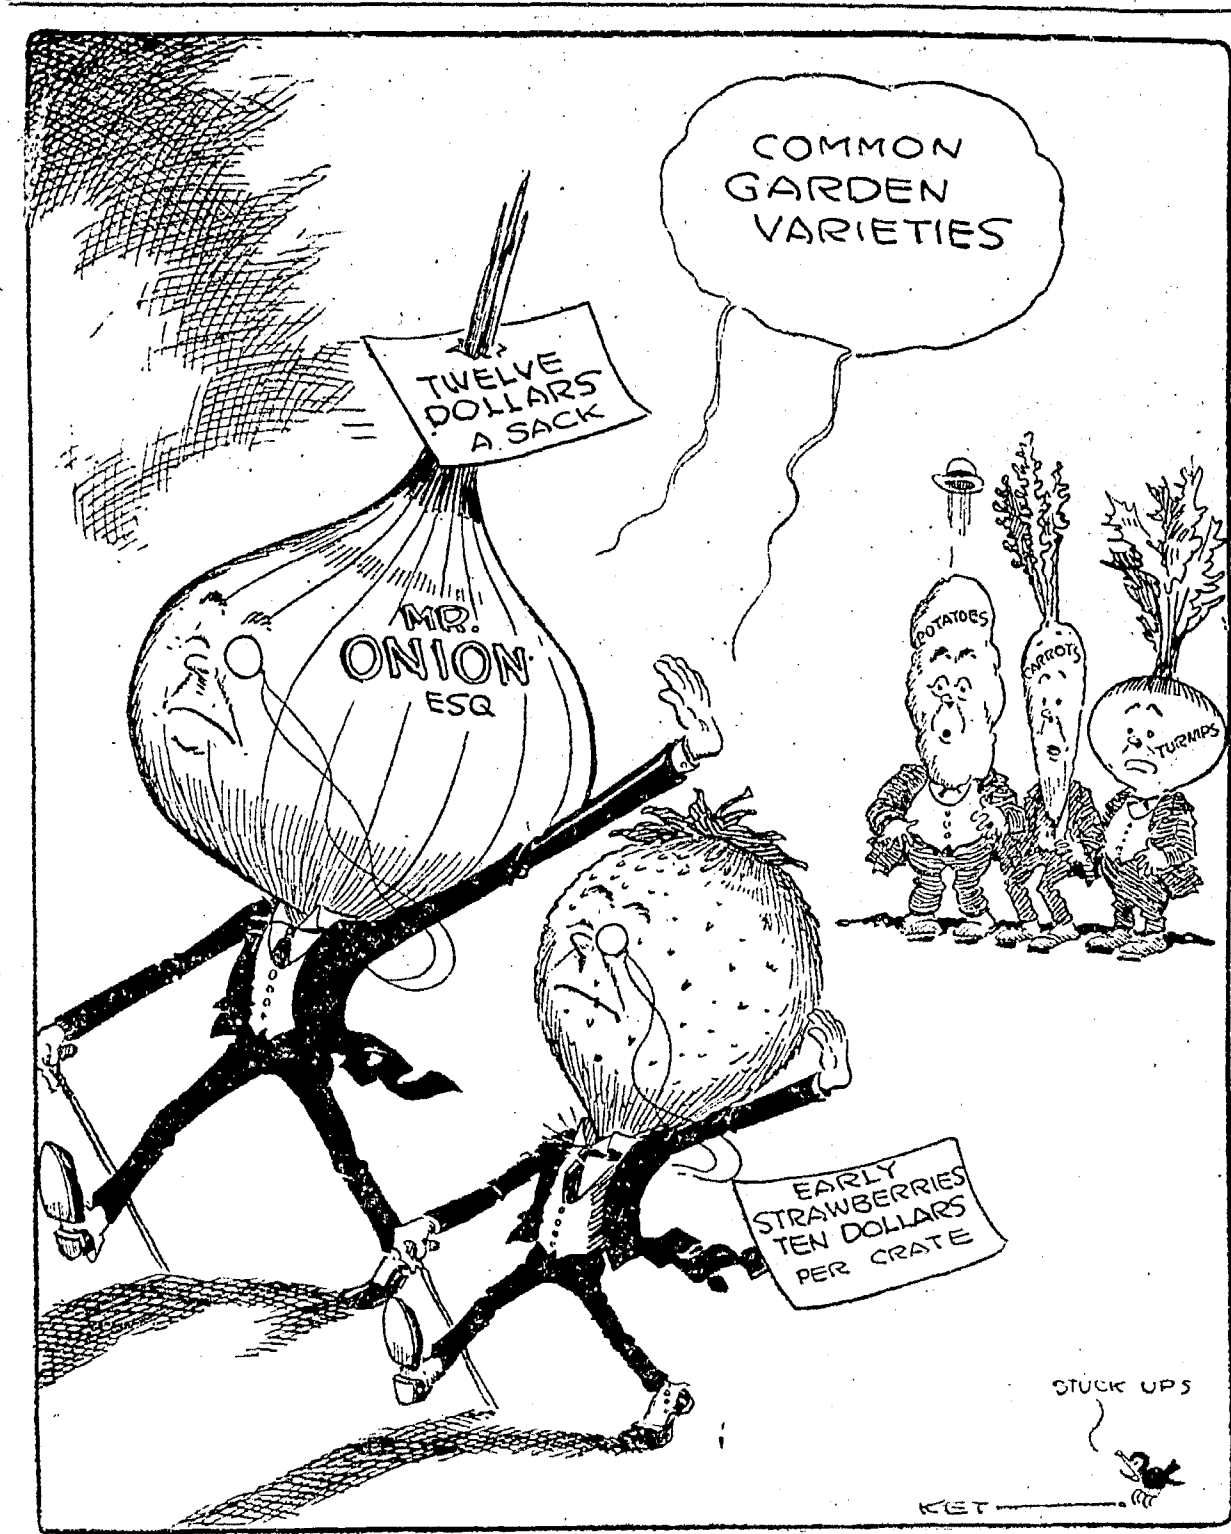

Pictures we have seen of New York's newest statue "Civic Virtue" would show that in one respect, at least, it has been maligned. The figure of Virtue is a man, not a woman. The sculptor, James Earle Fraser, is a woman. The figure of Virtue is a man, not a woman. The sculptor, James Earle Fraser, is a woman. The figure of Virtue is a man, not a woman. The sculptor, James Earle Fraser, is a woman.

The Red Toonerville.
Sir: At the double mass meeting of the neighbors on the Red Toonerville last night it was definitely decided to drop all charges against the skipper in connection with the terrible trouble of Mr. Eks and to make no further plans for the return of the old skipper at the helm. It was explained by Ham, the collector of shingles, that the skipper was not to blame for catapulting Mr. Eks to the floor and thus ruining about $20 worth of liquid laundry and it was further decided that inasmuch as the baseball season is rapidly approaching and Spring is with us the old skipper will not mind getting up in time to pilot the 6 o'clock.

The neighbors were also assured that the new skipper would take care of them and the proof of the pudding was in the eating this morning when the new skipper not only rang the bell but tooted the tooter as a morning greeting to the easily-angered Mr. Angle. In fact this was one of the things insisted on by the neighbors this morning chimes greeting. The tooting was the skipper's idea and shows good faith. As was said once before now that the king is departed long may the new king eat, drink and have his being, whatever that is.

One of the old standbys has turned in a verse rhyming "pathetic" with "hectic." Shall we turn him in with the lions?

THE NEWLY RICH.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Chicago News questions if Mary Garden said it: "Men are so difficult! They make the real trouble in opera organizations. They are so small, so petty, so superstitious. Thus Mary Garden is quoted in Current Opinion. But we don't believe Mary said it. Just like that. We fancy that she is the victim of typographical errors. Here is our notion of what she really said—you can see how the typesetter fumbled the words: 'Men are so difficult. They take the real trouble in opera organizations. They are so tall, so pretty, so superstitious. If she didn't say it just that way, it may have been because she didn't think of it.'

New York Herald on auto fatalities: "For more than a year motor cars have been killing New Yorkers at the rate of two or three a day. Sometimes the pedestrian is at fault, sometimes the killing is purely accidental; but in most cases the automobile crushes the victim because the driver is careless, unfit to handle a car or drunk with that sense of power which seizes some individuals when they take the wheel. Flies may do good in the case of first offenders against the rules of the road; but prison terms are the best cure for the speed mania."

Oregonian on immigration: "The peril of congestion is one of the new perils of unrestricted immigration. It explains why Congress is confronted with an entirely new issue, rather than an old issue in a new form. Our hospitality to immigrants must in clear self defense be tempered by considerations of whether they are likely to be adaptable to economic conditions as they exist in the United States today—not as they existed in some former time."

Oregon whiffed the operatic atmosphere, according to the Medford Mail-Tribune: "A week of grand opera left Portland dazed, with all the papers shouting, 'We are the music center of the northwest.' The sagebrush empire, east of the Cascades, crying for irrigation and railroads, will rejoice to hear this, as will many timbered and mineral sections. The metropolis will be the center of sweet noises; the Lord, as heretofore, will look after the development of the natural resources of Oregon."

Kansas City Star on a Los Angeles manifestation: "The experiment of the 'longer life league' in Los Angeles of inviting a member who had departed this life to a banquet is announced to have been a success. The departed member did not appear and take a seat at the table, as did Embury at a previous demonstration of spiritism, but he did what amounted to the same thing—practically, he sent a message. Why he did not come himself was not explained, but keeper of the visible letterheads."

The Stockton Record tells of a new duty devolving on letter carriers: "Letter carriers on rural routes have had a new job wished on them. They are to take a census of pigs early in May to obtain the probable pig population of the 14 states leading in the production of swine. More than 24,000 carriers connected with 5500 postoffices will count the pigs to satisfy the curiosity of the United States Department of Agriculture. We take it they will not be required to give the name and address of each porker, but only to count 'em. Details are lacking. Chances are it will be known as pig week."

Fresno Republican on a Klansman: "The Ku Klux Klan of Taft announces that its identity is determined by its stationery. If a threat is written with Klan imprint, then it is genuine. If it is not on Klan stationery, then it is spurious. This makes the most important person in the K. K. K. hierarchy the keeper of the stationery. They are going to have a busy time, it would seem, keeping the attention of the goblins and the other mystic agents of Klansmanship watching the invisible come himself was not explained, but keeper of the visible letterheads."

SPIRIT OF STATE PRESS

A despatch from San Francisco says that many persons were late to work on account of a fog on the bay. San Francisco isn't wise. She should have done like Los Angeles would have done and said that the torpedo cruisers maneuvering in the harbor had put up a smoke screen that interfered with navigation.—Hartford Sentinel.

E. A. Woten, who caused a considerable stir in Livermore when he represented himself to be an agent of the government arranging for engineering work at the site of the proposed government hospital, had his preliminary hearing in the local justice court on a charge of passing a fictitious check on E. P. Modry of the Valley hotel and was held to answer in the superior court.—Livermore Herald.

The fire which occurred on Saturday when 2200 tons of straw belonging to the paper mills of the Paraffine Companies burned, was costly. The straw was to be used in the manufacture of paper, and while the estimated loss would not be revealed it is reported that the cost of straw averages about ten dollars per ton, making the loss about $22,000.—Martinez Gazette.

The jury failed to acquit Mrs. Obenchain. We say failed to acquit because all American juries are expected to acquit a good-looking woman who weeps all over the court room.—Redding Searchlight.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE CLIMBER.

She has money enough for her wants
And her wishes,
Her meals are all served on the costliest dishes,
Her husband is faithful and kindly
And good,
But her friends all abide in her own neighborhood,
And her life seems as gloomy and dark as can be—
For Mrs. Van Gold never asks her to tea.

She may do what she will, and whenever she pleases,
May go to the South where the sea
never freezes,
May travel whenever she chooses to
room,
But she finds no contentment abroad
or at home,
Her days are not happy, her future is grim—She's not, as the vulgar would say, in the swim.

She has friends who are kindly and never intrusive, Good people to be with—but they're not "exclusive."
No joy is denied her which money can buy,
Yet she travels the town with a frown and a sigh,
And this is the sum of her pitiful plea—
The upper crust doesn't invite her to tea.

Now I sympathize with a genuine sorrow,
I've done it today and I'll do it tomorrow,
I'll go when I can in the face of a need.

To help out a friend, and I'll do it with speed,
But no one can wring any tears out of me Because some swell duchess won't ask her to tea.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Rev. Robert Whitaker, popular author and lecturer, will speak in Palm church, East Oakland, Tuesday evening on "The City of the Future."

A society vaudeville show is to be given on April 18 under the auspices of the Alumni and Alumnae of the University of California.
City Engineer Turner states that negotiations with the Realty Syndicate relative to securing a right of way for the outfall sewer to drain the entire northern portion of the city are progressing favorably.

The quarterly meeting of the board of police and pension fund commissioners was called today to pass several demands and claims. President Johnson occupied the chair.

THE JESTER.

Unappreciative.
The Newly-Riches were seated in Newly-Riche, at the grand piano, laboriously picking out hymn tunes with one finger.
"Hang it all, missus," said Mr.
Newly-Riche, impatiently, "if I buy you a piano that size I expect you to use both fists!"—Houston Post.

Sudden Affliction.
"Madge wants more diamonds, but her husband won't hear of it."
"Stone deaf, eh?"—Boston Transcript.

Lots of Weather.
"I want to do some shopping today, dear," said a fond wife. "That is, of course, if the weather is favorable. What is the forecast?"
He consulted the paper and promptly chanted off:
"Rain, hail, snow, thunder, lightning and floods."—St. Paul Dispatch.

About YOUR HEALTH

What Fresh Food Means
In the Treatment of Scurvy

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

Scurvy has been described to you as a constitutional disease characterized by certain pretty severe symptoms. Among these symptoms are anemia, great debility, softening and bleeding of the gums, loosening of the teeth and bleeding from the mucous membranes.

Scurvy is the result of wrong feeding.

It may attack grown persons who are deprived of certain important articles of food. Fresh food is essential to life. Fresh milk and fresh vegetables must be had.

Tinned or canned foods, good as they are, cannot wholly replace the natural fresh foods.

There is an element in certain foods called vitamins. I speak of this element as the soul of the food.
If the human soul is gone, life is gone. Without the soul of the food it is an empty thing, and cannot supply life-giving properties.

Without the vitamins, the food will fill the stomach and satisfy the appetite. But if there are to be growth and health there must be this life-preserving element.

Babies fed on breast milk are fortunate little beings. They are exposed to thrive if the mothers are healthy.
There have been great discussions over pasteurized milk and its value in infant feeding. Personally, I am a strong advocate of pasteurized milk because of what its use has done for the babies and little children of New York. Where tens of thousands were snuffed out every year by the diarrhoeal diseases, now the babies live and thrive.

It may be that prolonged boiling of the milk kills certain valuable elements, but proper pasteurization does not have this effect.

If there is any doubt about the milk or other food, and if the baby fails to grow as he should, the trouble can be remedied at once by adding orange juice or lemon juice to the diet, or by giving every day some tomato juice.

Potato gruel is an excellent corrective if scurvy threatens. My friend Dr. Louis Fischer, prepares this gruel by passing steamed floury potato through a fine sieve. This material is then in milk until it is smooth and about like thin cream. Well-cooked carrots treated in the same manner are equally good. To each feeding of milk one teaspoonful or more of the gruel should be added.

Arctic explorers have been spared from scurvy by eating raw bear's meat and blood. So we know that raw-meat juice is excellent to assist the cure of scurvy.

Any fresh vegetable or fruit is excellent. Grapes are sometimes prescribed in scurvy.

It is remarkable how much cleaner and fresher the skin is if the leafy vegetables and fruits are taken by the adult. You cannot be beautiful, rosy-cheeked and bright-eyed unless you eat the right things. Canned foods and boxed goods have their very important place in the dietary of the world, but without fresh things you cannot thrive.

Whatever is good to prevent or to cure scurvy is good to promote your health and mine. Let us learn the value of a well-balanced ration and then all may expect to live to be one hundred years old.

KEY ROUTE TO HAVE TWO NEW BOATS

The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway has asked for bids on two new ferry steamers for the transbay traffic. The craft will be 240 feet in length, 60 feet longer than the steamers now operated. The steamers will be ready in about six months after the contracts are signed.

Most of the shipbuilding plants about the bay district will submit figures by May 1.

S. J. JUNIOR COLLEGE, U. C. AFFILIATED

BERKELEY, March 31.—As part of a movement to bring all higher educational facilities of the State under one central head, the affiliation of the junior college department of the San Jose State Teachers' College with the University of California was announced today by President David P. Barrows.

The articles of affiliation were prepared under the authority given by Senate bill 500, passed at the last session of the State Legislature. This bill gives the governing board of any junior college in the State authority to comply with university requirements in return for instruction and assistance based on University standards.

President David P. Barrows, W. W. Kemp, president of the San Jose Normal, and Will C. Wood, State director of secondary education, signed the papers which placed the junior college under the supervision of the regents who govern the policies of the university and its affiliated units.

Prior to the passage of bill 500, students were given the privilege of utilizing junior college credits in the full value in case of a transfer to the university only as a matter of policy by the university authorities.

Oakland Policeman Jails Own Brother After Wild Battle

The Oakland police force is earning an enviable reputation for strict impartiality in the course of carrying out its duty.

Last week it was an Oakland guardian of the law who arrested his own wife for speeding, and hauled her to court. And now the police blotter shows that Officer A. H. Gladding last night subdued his brother, Lawrence, after a hard fight, and took him to the police station, where he charged him with being disorderly and disturbing the peace.

According to Policeman Gladding his brother Lawrence went on a "jackass brandy spree" yesterday, and then threatened to demolish his own family. The latter sought refuge with their policeman relative, according to the charge. Officer Gladding says that his brother followed, threatening his wife and children, and that he was forced to make the arrest, in the course of which the police officer sustained a wrenched leg, the fighting blood of the Gladdings being "up" on both sides.

Tin Can Bank, Buried During War, Looted

WOODLAND, March 31.—Warren Hennagin, rancher, east of Woodland has applied to District Attorney C. C. Donald for a burglary warrant against a farmhand working for him, whom he charges with making away with the best part of a $2,000 nest egg in currency, buried on the farm and enclosed in a tin can. Hennagin buried the money during the late war believing that it might be taken from him if kept in a bank. He started to look for it several days ago and found that his cached treasure had dwindled to $400 and that the treasure can had been moved several feet from its original hiding place on the expansive acres of the farm. The authorities have not given a complaint but are investigating.

YOUNG HEUER DENIES HE'LL WED WIDOW

RICHMOND, March 31.—Henry Heuer, 17-year-old Richmond High school student, acquitted yesterday at Martinez of a charge of having shot and killed Manuel Cabral at San Pablo on January 6, today denied he would marry Mrs. Emma Cabral, widow of the slain man. It was charged by the prosecution that the lad's love for Mrs. Cabral impelled him to murder the husband because of his ill-treatment of his wife. Heuer's denial sets at rest persistent rumors that have prevailed here that he contemplated taking the necessary steps which would make possible his marriage with Mrs. Cabral.

According to the youth, he has no plans for the immediate future. Upon his arrival here yesterday accompanied by his parents they were accorded an informal reception by many friends. They later conferred with the firm of attorneys who defended the boy.

DECOTO AUTO CAMP PLANNED

DECOTO, March 31.—Taking advantage of the certainty of large numbers of automobile tourists passing through Washington township this summer, Decoto has made plans for extending hospitality to its visitors and arrangements are being completed this week for the establishment of an auto camp ground here.

Negotiations have been made between Joe Pedone of Ashland and local citizens for the establishment of the camp, it to be placed on a commercial basis this year as an experiment. A location for the camp is being considered, a site near Dry Creek, skirting the state highway, being favored.

Decoto is the first community of the township to announce plans for an auto camp site this year, although citizens of Irvington and Centerville also are discussing similar proposals. No definite action has been taken in either community so far.

Irvington will have need of such an establishment due to its rapidly increasing number of visitors and Centerville, which will be boomed during the late summer months by the harvest of the record crop of tomatoes, may utilize the public park, facing the Southern Pacific station.

YOUNG MATRON HAS DOPE HABIT, PEDDLER CAUGHT

Clubman, Whose Wife Becomes Narcotic Addict, Traps Offender.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Walking into a trap laid by the police, an alleged narcotic peddler was captured today in the act. It is claimed of delivering narcotics at the home of a young society matron, whose husband discovered by the merest chance that she was slowly becoming a victim to the use of narcotics.

The name of the young woman, who has been married only 13 months and whose addiction to drugs covers a period one year, is being withheld at the request of the police and in order to spare the notoriety in the midst of her efforts to be permanently cured at a local hospital.

The woman's husband, a member of a prominent local club and well known in the business world, chanced to open a letter, mistaking it for one addressed to him. It was from a woman, and referred to the drug habit acquired by his wife, to whom it had been mailed. Confronting her with this evidence, he obtained a confession that she had been addicted to the use of narcotics for one year. She was sent at once to a hospital, and Night Captain of Detectives Emmet Hogan appealed to. Under his direction her husband, accompanied by Detectives Keiher and Conlon, went to the family home. The husband, disguising his voice to resemble that of his wife, telephoned to the man whom she admitted was supplying her with the narcotics, begging for a supply.

Although it was 3 o'clock in the morning the man, a driver for a local taxi company, responded in his machine. As he jumped through the

SINGER IN COURT CHANGES COUNSEL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 31.—Mme. Marguerite Matzenauer, grand opera singer, obtained a court order yesterday changing her attorneys in her suit against her husband, Floyd G. Matzenauer, who recently returned to Del Monte, Cal., to resume his work as a chauffeur after a year's marriage to the diva.

This is the first court record in the marital action Mme. Matzenauer had previously announced as having filed. The court order bore no endorsement and did not reveal whether she is suing for divorce or separation. The diva's acknowledgment was taken by a notary February 20.

Mme. Matzenauer has a country home at Rye, near here.

BOOSTERS TO BE HOSTS. HAYWARD, March 31.—Members of the Hayward Boosters' club, according to F. J. Bragg, will give a housewarming party at the club's headquarters in the State bank building on B street on Monday evening. Their guests will be members of their families.

"As soon as we get things fixed up," Bragg said, "we are going to ask members of the Chamber of Commerce to sit in with us some night. We've out to do our best for Hayward, and we welcome an organization like the chamber to work with. We are an organization of retail merchants created because of problems peculiar to our business, but that don't prevent us from seeing the advantage of a general business organization."

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Charles B. Booth, son of Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, was found to be "mentally sick and bordering on insanity," by the Los Angeles County

A Business Statement that is a Great Human Record

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Records kept by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its Industrial, or weekly premium, policy-holders. Comparing 1921 with 1911, for example, there were 55,000 less deaths in 1921 than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

What brought about the great saving of life?

The general public health movement—progress in medical science and sanitation—other causes, perhaps. But a very great factor has been the tremendous health campaign carried on by the Metropolitan itself. This page tells a part of the story.

"The Company OF the People, BY the People, FOR the People."—John R. Hegeman

FOR THE NATION'S HEALTH

144 health exhibits and emergency hospitals at county fairs last year; 295 "Clean-up" campaigns; agitation by Agents for health legislation; nationwide campaigns against special diseases; sickness and sanitary surveys; a study of municipal health departments; leadership of practically all American research work relating to influenza—these are some instances of the Metropolitan's activity in the interest of public health.

HOMES FOR 17,744 FAMILIES

In the investment of its funds, the Metropolitan is now giving preference to loans which will aid housing. During 1920 and 1921, the Company made and pledged loans of $68,080,017, on new dwellings and new apartment houses, providing homes for 17,744 families.

GREAT DECLINE IN DEATH RATES

The death rate among Industrial policy-holders reached its lowest point in 1921—31.9% lower than in 1911. The rate from typhoid decreased 71%; tuberculosis, 49%; Bright's disease, nearly 30%; infectious diseases of children nearly 37%. The "Expectation of Life" of white males (reckoned from age 10) increased 4 years.

PUBLIC APPRECIATION

The American people have made the Metropolitan the greatest life insurance company in the world, with $7,005,707,839 insurance in force.

It leads not only in Industrial but in Ordinary. More than half of its business in force is Ordinary—$3,892,267,274—which is more than that of any Company in the world.

THE FUTURE

The Metropolitan will continue its endeavor to offer the best there is in life, health and accident insurance, and to save human life. Continued growth will give the Company still greater opportunities to serve the American people in insurance protection and in the conservation of life and health.

FOUR VETERANS IN S. P. SERVICE ARE RETIRED ON PAY

Work Suspended at West Oakland Roundhouse During Ceremonies.

Four men, veterans in the employ of the Southern Pacific company, reached the age of seventy years today, and were retired and placed on the pension list, with ceremony at the West Oakland roundhouse, this morning by their brother workers. The length of service of the four men range from 28 to 46 years.

They are William Ten Eyck, 537 Fifty-third street, John Harrigan, 1703 Bruce street, Joseph Silva, 1662 Chase street, and Richard P. Kingston, 555 Center street.

The four service veterans were ushered from their life jobs by more than 200 fellow employees. Each man received a pipe as a token of appreciation for their faithful years of service. Appearing at the yards today, prepared to do their last day's work, the men were taken in charge by their comrades and not permitted to lift their fingers in the performance of their former duties. Instead, they were permitted to roam about the shops and jokingly "rub it in" on the other employees.

The men received their presents and certificates of pension at a ceremony attended by every employee in the yards. C. L. Gibson, assistant master mechanic, acted as master of ceremonies. According to the pension rules of the company, a man must have at least twenty years of continuous service and must be 70 years old before he will go on the retired list.

Ten Eyck, who was 70 years old today, has had 33 years of service. He was a foreman coppersmith and entered the railroad's employ in Carlin, Nevada, in 1883.

Harrigan, an engineer, at one time piloted the Seattle limited. At the time of his retirement he was on a switch engine. He had 43 years of service, entering the company's employ in West Oakland in 1879.

Silva entered the service at Fort Coats in 1882. He was in the maintenance of way department when retired.

Kingston was employed in the same department. He began working for the road in 1876 and has the longest period of service of the quartet, 46 years.

Editor Will Speak At C. of C. Luncheon

"Present Economic Conditions," is the subject of which Merle Thorpe, editor and publisher of "The Nation's Business," will address the members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon to be given in his honor Monday noon.

Thorpe was a student of Stanford in 1902 and received a degree at the University of Washington in 1908. He was at one time editor of the Alto Times and later was a member of the staff of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. During the summers of 1914 and 1915 he was lecturer on journalism in the University of California.

FRESNO, March 31.—A. E. Sunderland, president of the Fresno Rotary Club, has been selected to head the "Do A Good Turn Week" campaign here during which $15,000 will be raised to finance the Boy Scout 1922 program. J. J. Rosborough, postmaster at Oakland, will be the chief speaker in opening the campaign.

Five-Year Penalty.

These charges, if sustained, would result in contempt of court proceedings against Jarvis, Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren said today. Conviction of this offense carries with it a maximum penalty of five years in the penitentiary.

Action on the charges has been postponed pending the completion of the trial.

We would be in contempt of court ourselves if we failed to take action about anything pertaining to the case until after the close of the trial," said Warren.

POOR WITNESS, CHARGE.

Preston L. Higgins, the deputy who is prosecuting the case against Martioli, said today that Jarvis has been an adverse witness for the prosecution throughout the trial.

Jarvis is proprietor of a barber shop at 465 Twelfth street, Martioli, a bootblack with a stand in front of the barber shop, is accused of having entered the shop during the transit during the night, taking money from the till.

Dash of Talcum Powder Fatal to Nebraska Infant

OMAHA, Neb., March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The eight-month-old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Peebler of West Point, Nebraska, died in a Fremont, Nebraska, hospital last night from what physicians declare was congestion of the lungs resulting after talcum powder had been dashed into the infant's face by her three-year-old sister while they were playing on the floor of the family home last Wednesday.

The powder had clogged the baby's nostrils. The infant was hurriedly taken to Fremont shortly after the incident occurred. A pulmotor was used and physicians spent all day yesterday trying to save the infant's life.

JURY TAMPERING AFFIDAVITS TO BE ASKED OF WOMEN

Affidavits supporting their charges that Robert Jarvis, local barber, attempted to tamper with them as jurors in behalf of the man who is accused of having robbed him, are to be demanded of two of the women jurors in the trial of Peter Martioli by Superior Judge Church and members of the district attorney's staff.

Mrs. Marie Dorffel, 838 Brockhurst avenue, and Mrs. Katrina Wassman, 538 Elsie street, San Leandro, two of the jurors in the trial of Peter Martioli for alleged burglary, reported to Judge Church that during the recess of the trial they had been approached in the court house corridor by Jarvis, who told them that Martioli was a good fellow and asked them to acquit him.

FIVE-YEAR PENALTY.

These charges, if sustained, would result in contempt of court proceedings against Jarvis, Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren said today. Conviction of this offense carries with it a maximum penalty of five years in the penitentiary.

Action on the charges has been postponed pending the completion of the trial.

We would be in contempt of court ourselves if we failed to take action about anything pertaining to the case until after the close of the trial," said Warren.

POOR WITNESS, CHARGE.

Preston L. Higgins, the deputy who is prosecuting the case against Martioli, said today that Jarvis has been an adverse witness for the prosecution throughout the trial.

Jarvis is proprietor of a barber shop at 465 Twelfth street, Martioli, a bootblack with a stand in front of the barber shop, is accused of having entered the shop during the transit during the night, taking money from the till.

Valley, Vividly A-bloom Awaits Guests at Fete

SAN JOSE, March 31.—Santa Clara valley, her 10,000,000 fruit trees bursting into their radiant bloom on the green-brown floor of the "Valley of Heart's Delight," awaits the world.

Tomorrow and Sunday her people play hosts in the little community of Saratoga, nestled in the bosom of the rolling foothills, twelve miles west of this city, on the occasion of the twenty-second annual blossom festival.

Not in all the world has nature ever prepared a more beautiful display of her abundant charms. Not in all the world has the Divine Creator patterned a more radiant, colorful, inspiring panorama than that to be found in the vision of Santa Clara valley in her mantle of white and pink.

Not in all the world is there a more matchless setting for this feast of the blossoms than here in the "Valley of Heart's Delight."

Santa Clara knows this. They tell the world, and tomorrow and Sunday they are to prove it.

As if lifting back a heavy drape over a master painting, clouds which have veiled the valley for the week past rolled aside today and a typical California sun shown down in its warmth upon the millions of fruit trees beneath. Instantly, like the popping of corn over coals of fire, the billions of pink and white blossoms started bursting into radiant bloom.

NO POSTPONEMENT.

Promise that the valley shall be "nearly at its height of beauty" was held in the coming of sunshine today. The worry and fear that had been nursed in the hearts of the sponsors of the twenty-second annual blossom festival was swept aside for indications pointed to the fact that the blossoms will be out to a degree of perfection not disappointing.

Officials of the festival did not declare that tomorrow and Sunday would be the "best days" for the blossoms. They declared they could be the only days for the festival. An impossibility of postponement has resulted in the refusal of the Saratoga Improvement Club to consider the cancellation or continuation of the two-day program that has been arranged after weeks of careful preparation—so Santa Clara valley's people will be hosts tomorrow and Sunday.

The blossoms will be among those present. The glory of the matchless panorama will be just as superb, it is promised, as it could be one week later.

TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENTS.

Plans for the handling of the tremendous flow of motor traffic certain to pour into this valley over the highways and byways had been completed this afternoon. Sheriff George W. Lyle, members of the Santa Clara county traffic squad and outside officers were joining hands in arranging for the handling of the crowds and the congestion experienced last year is not anticipated tomorrow and Sunday, not because of less machines, but because of better supervision.

And, too, the arrangements for feeding the thousands upon thousands of visitors to the little foothill town of Saratoga have been completed. The women of that community, working hand in hand, have arranged for the serving of light lunches to the throngs.

THE PROGRAM.

The two-day program, too, is ready. Governor William D. Stephens will officially launch the festival with an address in the open air amphitheater formed by the gently sloping hills near the center of Saratoga, at 2 o'clock sharp.

Seating accommodations for more than 10,000 people have been provided by the amphitheater.

Following the address of the governor will come the first of two great choral concerts, Saturday's to be staged by a community chorus of 200 trained voices for many parts of the valley augmented by the singers and orchestra of the College of Pacific Conservatory of Music, and Sunday's by the Peninsular Choral Society of San Mateo.

Professor Charles M. Dennis is director of the festival chorus for tomorrow. Miles A. Dressell leading the orchestra. Following is the complete musical program for Saturday afternoon:

I. America. Old Black Joe. Foster Blossom festival chorus and audience.

II. Ballet Egyptian. Luigini Allegretto. Andante sostenuto. Andante espressivo. College of the Pacific orchestra.

III. Land of Our Hearts. Chadwick Blossom festival chorus and orchestra.

IV. Address by Governor William D. Stephens.

V. War March of the Priests, from "Aladdin. Mendelssohn College of Pacific orchestra.

VI. Hallelujah chorus from the Messiah. Blossom festival chorus and orchestra.

The entire convention program has been in the hands of a committee headed by S. P. Patterson, assisted by J. U. Higginbotham, Miss Doris Foster, Miss May Smith and Mrs. L. J. Hanchett.

POLICE SET NET TO CAPTURE OIL COMPANY HEAD

Warrant Issued Charging J. G. Anderson With Fake Stock Deal.

Descriptions of J. G. Anderson, head of the P. O. Petroleum Company of Oklahoma, which had offices in this city at one time, were sent broadcast today by the police and district attorney's office, following the issuance of a warrant yesterday for his arrest. The warrant was issued in the complaint of J. Z. Royer and A. A. Meyers, who declare that they are victims of Anderson's swindling scheme.

Royer told the police that he had invested $1900 in the old leasing scheme, and Meyers said that he had contributed $1870. An accurate count of the fortune alleged to have been invested in the scheme will probably never be known, District Attorney Decoto said today.

According to Royer, Meyers and others who have made complaints against the company, they gave their money to Anderson in exchange for which they received a one-seventeenth share in an Oklahoma oil well, and they were guaranteed a return of 5 per cent monthly on their investment. For a month or two, according to the men, Anderson paid the dividends, but after that the dues were not forthcoming.

Anderson left town some time ago, as the result of efforts by the Better Business Bureau of the Oakland Advertising Club. Since his disappearance many inquiries and complaints have been received at the organization's headquarters. The authorities are hopeful of having him picked up and returned to this city.

Alleged Dope Peddler Placed Under Arrest

Roy Brennan, who the police say is a dope peddler who operates in this city and San Francisco, was arrested by Sergeant E. W. Brock and T. J. McInerney, an inspector for the State Board of Pharmacy, on a charge of violating the state poison act. At the time of his arrest, the police claim that he had a small quantity of dope concealed in the rim of his hat.

The same officers arrested Jerry McCarthy, whom they say is Brennan's accomplice, at Eleventh and Franklin streets. He is charged with vagrancy. Brennan, according to the police, will be charged with a felony because this is the second time that he had been arrested on a similar charge.

Literature and Play Held Necessities

Contact with the world's best literature and wholesome recreation were urged as necessities by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of the March dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club last night. More than 150 guests listened to the educator who announced her subject, "Literature and Living."

"Our jobs are bigger than our offices," she told them. "Illumine the work that you do with the best of your power. Then shall we have a democracy that will be the envy of the world and shall have lived up to our oratory."

Shriners Will Hold Queen, Baby Contests

The public is invited to make nominations in the contests.

The winner of the Queen contest will be given an automobile and there will be four other awards of diamond rings. Diamond rings are to be given to the winners in the baby contest also.

Colonel Smith Tells Experiences in War

SAN LEANDRO, March 31.—Despite the severe weather, a large crowd attended the lecture delivered last night by Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, the First Presbyterian Church of San Leandro. Colonel Smith spoke on the subject of "The World's War and the Fields of France," and concluded his talk with a discussion and upholding of the Volstead Act.

Intimate glimpses into the wartime life of Rev. E. V. Bronson, pastor of the M. E. Church of this city and at that time a chaplain with the American Expeditionary Forces, formed a portion of Colonel Smith's lecture. The two, it was disclosed, met and worked for a considerable length of time during the war years. It is suggested that request of Rev. Bronson that Colonel Smith consented to appear in San Leandro.

The Mutual Creamery Company was fined $10 by Police Judge John Smith after being found guilty of violating the pure food law. According to the testimony there was a sign in the store which stated that the ice cream was artificially colored and flavored. The sign was placed 27 feet away from the containers with the ice cream instead of above the containers.

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Hearing in the case of State Senator C. W. Lyon, charged with violation of the federal liquor law, was today continued until April 29 by the United States Commissioner Long.

RECIPROCITY IS ROAD TO PERCE, HAMMOND SAYS

World Famous Engineer Is Honor Guest at Oakland C. C. Luncheon.

A spirit of international reciprocity is the only dependable motive for the co-operation of nations, and the only enduring basis for industrial and international peace, John Hays Hammond, world-famous mining engineer and financier, told the members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland.

Few men are so well qualified to speak of international matters as John Hays Hammond, who played a prominent role in the history of South Africa, when he was Cecil Rhodes' right-hand man in the development of the great Witwatersrand mines, and afterwards took part in the reform movement which led to the Jameson raid. Hammond's imprisonment, his condemnation to death and subsequent reprieve make one of the most extraordinary chapters of colonial history.

NOTABLE ADDRESS.

In the course of his remarks, which covered many vital national and international subjects, ranging from a wide survey of world conditions to practical suggestions for trade expansion, Hammond said: "The world just now seems to be deep in the slough of despond, and nations, in working out their own economic salvation, seem to be endeavoring to pull themselves out of the mire by their boot straps. If they would but adopt a policy of mutual helpfulness and exert themselves to extricate their neighbors, they could soon again reach terra firma."

Hammond said that too many people had regarded the war as a cleansing fire, which would insure peace and prosperity to mankind. Unfortunately, he said, it did not bring so useful, but revived only the world's old troubles. Yet, he said, the country was not going to the "demonition bow-wow," the calamity howlers notwithstanding, and he recommended pessimists to "take a trip to California, where optimism is inherent."

"MAKE HASTE SLOWLY."

Hammond warned his hearers not to think of business as a mere horse race, and to believe that another great boom might be imminent. He said: "It is better to make haste slowly than to precipitately make operations, for our home markets cannot even under most favorable conditions absorb the products of stimulating industrial activity. We must depend upon overseas markets for the sale of our surplus products, and these markets will be available only with the financial and economic rehabilitation of Europe."

Hammond briefly traced the costly experiment of Bolshevism in Russia, and warned against an excessive interference of Government in national enterprises. He said: "All intelligent citizens agree that the Government's mission is to see that the gates of opportunity are kept open for all citizens."

Discussing present day economic conditions in the United States, Hammond said: "The present situation in the world trade is an interesting economic paradox. In our country we have the anomalous situation of great harvests, a large surplus of products of industry, on the one hand, and on the other hand the markets of the world imploring in vain for our surplus goods. It seems up to the Government to take the initiative, and the maintenance of our merchant marine is of inestimable value. We should face the issue squarely and also revise our out-of-date navigation laws. We should provide governmental assistance, even the giving of subsidies if necessary."

Hammond yesterday addressed the Commercial Club in San Francisco.

Permit Asked for Big Gasoline Tanks

Following yesterday's recommendation for a new statute governing gasoline tanks and the case of the Durant Motor Company today made formal application to the city council for permission to install two 16,000-gallon tanks at their plant. The matter was referred to the fire chief.

An ordinance raising the city's duty on the City Engineer Mel Auerbach to $325 a month was given final passage and $7500 was also granted, in a final ordinance, for the city's part of the Fourteenth street improvements from Webster to Alice streets.

DISTRIBUTION OF ETHEL MOORE'S ESTATE ORDERED

Accompanying Decree Is Assignment of A. A. Moore's Interest to Nephew.

Final distribution of the estate of Ethel Moore, well known in California for her philanthropy, was ordered in a decree signed by Superior Judge E. C. Robinson of the Probate Court and filed by attorneys for the estate today. Accompanying the decree of distribution was an assignment by Albert A. Moore of his interest in the estate to Albert Arthur Moore, a nephew.

The decree of distribution sets forth that the chief asset of the estate consists of an undivided one-fifth interest in the estate of Annie Hall Moore, amounting to about $75,000. The division of the estate was in accordance with Ethel Moore's will and which has been approved by the court.

The administrator's report, which is incorporated in the decree, shows that the estate of Ethel Moore has received from the estate of Annie Hall Moore, amounting to about $75,000. The division of the estate was in accordance with Ethel Moore's will and which has been approved by the court.

Wife Who Refused Freedom Happy in Jail With Husband

EL CENTRO, Cal., March 31.—Mrs. Kate Hester, of El Centro, who, after she and her husband had been convicted of defrauding M. L. Grayson, refused to accept probation unless her husband also received it, and who went with him to San Quentin penitentiary, has written to the matron of the Imperial county jail here that she is "glad" to be there.

"I guess it is for the best," wrote Mrs. Hester. "God knows what is best for us, and if we do wrong we have to atone for it. I will feel better for doing my sentence."

"They are awfully nice to us girls up here. There are two lovely matrons who look after us. Will have little to do except take care of our own rooms and make up our beds. I am learning to do a lot of useful things."

"Mrs. Peete—the woman who was supposed to have killed Denon—is here. She is a perfect dear. All of us girls love her to death. She is sort of queen of the women's prison. She says she didn't kill that man, and hopes to get out some time when she proves she didn't. She doesn't feel very well."

Mrs. Hester stated she had not seen her husband since they entered the penitentiary together, but that she had become reconciled to the separation.

GIRL ABDUCTORS SOUGHT BY POLICE

NOGALES, Ariz., March 31.—Police of two countries are searching today for William Stanton and Fred Davis, Americans, accused as leaders in a wealthy ring which has been recruiting American girls for Mexican cabarets in Nogales, Sonora.

The men, allegedly financed by Mexican money, directed an "underground route" from Bisbee, Ariz., to Sonora, it is charged.

The United States department of justice has issued warrants against the men charging them with violating the Mann White Slave Act.

The recruiting ring came to light when two high school girls are said to have made complete statements as to its workings.

Riccardi Fined $100 As Dry Law Breaker

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—C. Vincent Riccardi, who attracted considerable attention by reasons of his charges against former Police Judge Maurice Openheim and John J. Sullivan, was fined $100 today by Federal Judge Hunt for violating the prohibition laws. He was arrested here on his arrival from New York with a satchel of liquor in his possession. He got the satchel back today.

RAIL BOARD HEAD DENIES HARDING ORDERED HEARING

Hooper Says President and His Cabinet Had No Part in Wage Action.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Indications that President Harding and his cabinet had been instrumental in bringing the present railroad labor fight for lower wages to the railroad board brought a strong denial from Vice-Chairman Hooper on the bench today. The president had never given the "slightest intimation as to what policy the board should pursue in adjusting wages."

Testimony before the board by Frank Warner, statistician for the shop crafters, today resulted, in a warm argument between Warner and J. L. Coleman, general counsel of the Santa Fe, concerning the relation of freight rates to wages. Warner told the board of the necessary relation between the two and cited decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1910 and 1914 as proof.

Coleman, in cross-examination, inquired concerning later decisions of the commission and asked if the first act of the director general of railroads under federal control had not been a 25 per cent rate increase. After parrying with Coleman, Warner finally refused to answer the questions and refused to talk on the Transportation Act or on federal control.

DRY PROSECUTOR NOW RECOVERING

PASADENA, March 31.—Physicians attending Robert H. McCormick of San Francisco, special assistant attorney-general of the United States in charge of liquor law prosecutions in the west, who is recovering from three operations and blood poisoning, were optimistic today over his condition.

He was reported much better, but attending doctors have not determined whether or not the blood transfusion operation can be dispensed with which probably will be necessary to restore health to McCormick.

'DON JUAN' FAILS IN APPEAL FOR ALIMONY SLASH

C. B. Suddarth, employee of a San Francisco business concern, failed today to obtain a reduction of his alimony payments, on the ground that he could not live on less than $175 a month, but the $100 that his ex-wife is earning as a bookkeeper is sufficient for her needs. The decision was accompanied by a rebuke delivered by Superior Judge Quinn.

Judge Quinn pointed out to Suddarth that his wife's divorce had been granted her on the grounds that he had attempted to pose as a "Don Juan" on a salary of $175 a month, and that although she had worked for him, she had not been able to prevent her saving any money.

"It is the opinion of this court that you are getting a pretty easy time being required to pay your former wife only $37.50 a month," Judge Quinn said.

The interlocutory decree was granted Mrs. Annie Suddarth last August on a cross-complaint.

SPANKS WIFE WHO ADMIRE ITALIAN COUNT

NEW YORK, March 31.—(By International News Service.)—The declaration that he had felt impelled to give his wife, whom he characterized as a "social jester," a spanking because of her admiration for the "Napoleonic" ideals, of a certain Italian count, was made by Frank D. Montfort, a retired banker, in papers filed in the superior court today in answer to a separation suit brought by his wife.

The couple have been married for fourteen years. The first break in the connubial bliss occurred last year on a trip to Italy. Montfort alleges his wife paid too many attentions to a Count Egon, and declared she had acknowledged a "mental affection" for the count.

Printers to Aid in Thwarting Frauds

The printers of Alameda county have joined forces with the Better Business Bureau in order to protect the printers and the community in general from the losses entailed in printing fake programs and other "wild cat" literature.

At a meeting of the Alameda County Typographical Association, which adopted a resolution providing that all members when asked to print programs or other printing that appears to be of a doubtful character and when the buyer is unknown to the printer, the printer first report to the Alameda County Typographical Association, which will in return report the details to the Better Business Bureau.

This action was taken following the printing of programs for the "Steel Boys' Ball," an affair which it is said never took place as advertised.

"Pure Fabric" Law Urged by Ferguson

Addressing the regular meeting of the Laundry Wren's Association of Alameda County yesterday, George B. Ferguson, secretary of the association, urged that steps be taken to secure "pure fabric" legislation. He said there is a general nationwide movement for pure fabric legislation which would protect the public from inferior goods. At the present time, he pointed out, the public has no way of knowing whether or not the goods are made of the material as represented. This ignorance, on the part of the public has opened the way for many manufacturers, he declared, to resort to sharp practices. He declared that scientific tests had frequently shown that goods presented to be wool had contained paper. He suggested that the fabric be correctly labeled by the retailer for the protection of the purchaser.

NEW RULING ON NG KA PY BOOZE CONTENT SOUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Whether Ng Ka Py, also known as Chinese wine, is to be classed as an intoxicating liquor, or whether it is a medicine is a question that confronts Prohibition Director Samuel F. Rutter in the disposal of the 11,577 cases that have been seized by the U. S. Customs since July, 1921.

The forces of Chinatown, who are interested in the release of the Ng Ka Py, are reported as having asked for a ruling from Washington in the matter. Last year some 14,000 cases of the stuff were released as medicine, but since then there have been several contrary rulings.

YOUTH ASSERTS MATRON URGED MAN TO MURDER

KITTANNING, Pa., March 31.—"She," cried Eugene Sanz, young Cuban and alleged lover of Mrs. Amelia Whann, pointing dramatically to the woman accused of instigating a murderous assault upon her husband—"she urged me twice to do away with him, and I consented."

Two hours of cross-examination today failed to shake the testimony of the youth, who admits he struck down his wealth benefactor, Dr. John Whann.

The doctor sat beside his wife in court, warm in his protestations of her innocence, despite the damaging story told by Sanz of his intimate relations with the defendant.

Dr. Whann glared at the witness as he pointed out Mrs. Whann as the woman who instigated the attempted murder.

Then he looked comfortingly at his wife.

"I will never believe that she had anything to do with this crime," he said.

Observations Will Test Einstein Theory

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Information to bear out or disprove Einstein's theory of relativity will be sought in observations of solar eclipses to be taken this year at Paapeete, Tahiti, and on the Australian coast by a party of scientists, the first of whom left here today. On board a warship to be furnished by the Australian government they will go to Freemantle on the northwestern coast to observe the solar eclipse, September 21. After completion of their work the party will return to California by way of the Suez canal and New York.

Schlueter, who lives at the Hotel Virginia, Post and Mason streets, San Francisco, disappeared from that address last Monday morning.

An acquaintance informed Schlueter's brother that he had seen him at Twelfth and Broadway either Monday night or Tuesday night.

When he left the hotel he wore a gray suit and a brown overcoat. He is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds. He wears wavy hair. He is 35 years of age. He limps slightly with his left leg. He has a rather large mouth and several gold-filled teeth.

JUDGE THINKS OWN IDEA ON ALIMONY BEST

Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure and Joseph Crudo, San Francisco insurance brokers, exchanged ideas today on the amount of alimony that should be paid by a man reputed to be worth $25,000, and Crudo lost. Crudo $75 each month.

Crudo, who lives in Oakland, Crudo still lives in San Francisco.

You are said to be worth $25,000. You and your wife lived together twenty-one years; what alimony do you think you should pay her?" the court questioned.

Crudo answered promptly and positively.

"Twenty-five dollars."

"It's not safe to let you fix the amount," Judge St. Sure commented, "so I will name it; you will pay Mrs. Crudo $75 each month."

Mrs. Crudo charged Crudo with having locked her out of the Crudo home and with having abused her in the view of the neighbors.

CANADA LIQUOR LAW CHANGES ARE PROPOSED

OTTAWA, March 31.—Sweeping changes in the Canadian liquor laws were proposed to Premier King and the cabinet today by the dominion committee on liquor legislation headed by D. B. Harkness, of Winnipeg. Their suggestions included one that the manufacture of "home brew" be made illegal.

The committee also requested the government to consider whether it would be possible to prohibit exportation of liquor from Canada to the United States.

BURMA BRIGANDS ATTACK, PLUNDER U. S. MISSIONARY

Troops Slay Eighty, Capture Prince Wunthu, Leader of the Band.

RANGOON, Burma, March 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Brigands attacked and burned the house occupied by Robert Harper, an American Baptist missionary, at Nankam, about 100 miles between this city and Mandalay, on March 20. It was learned here today. The brigands numbered approximately 500 and were led by Prince Wunthu, a member of former Burmese Royal House.

After sacking a nearby village and murdering many of its inhabitants, Wunthu proclaimed himself king of Bhamo and said he had come to detach Burma from British rule. Rev. Harper notified the military police, who three days later fought an engagement with the band, killing 80 of them and capturing Prince Wunthu.

VISITORS ADDRESS MILLS STUDENTS

Edward A. Steiner, professor of sociology at Grinnell College, Iowa, and Miss Mary Yost, dean of women in Stanford University, were speakers before Mills College students at Assembly Hall today. Steiner is widely known as a writer and is a recognized immigration authority. His subject was "The Making of a Great Race." Dean Yost was later the guest of honor at an informal tea at which President Aurelia Henry Reinhardt entertained Dean Yost of Mills, head residents in the various campus and alumnae members of the Mills faculty.

An exhibition of etchings by Rol Partridge, a member of the art department at Mills College, was opened today in the San Francisco Museum of Art. Partridge received the announcement yesterday that he had been awarded the O'Melveny award at the exhibition of the Print Makers' Society of California at Pasadena. The etching which brought him the honor showed Mills Hall through the window of a car.

The San Francisco exhibit is the largest collection that Partridge has shown.

3 MILLIONS A YEAR EXTORTED IN N. Y., CLAIM

NEW YORK, March 31.—More than $3,000,000 a year is being extorted from wealthy New Yorkers by a national blackmailers' trust. Men of national prominence are being victimized. The "trust" is operating all over the United States and its total annual loot is "simply appalling."

W. Sherman Burns of the Burns Detective Agency made these statements today in an interview with the United Press, wherein he revealed that the amount of money obtained by blackmailers almost equals the annual harvest of all the highwaymen, burglars, pickpockets, train robbers and postal bandits in America combined.

GARAGE LOOTED

The Alameda Garage at 2858 Thirty-eighth avenue, was broken into by burglars who forced the rear door. Nine tires, six inner tubes, twelve spot lights and one stop light were taken by the thieves. The theft was reported by A. G. Taylor after he opened the garage this morning.

Alma Colony Is Under Probe of 'Free Love Tip'

Four Children Seized at Sect Headquarters in Santa Clara County.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—A searching inquiry into the practices of the Church of the Perfect Christian Way, alleged to be maintaining a free love colony at Alma, Santa Clara county, has been ordered by the district attorney of San Jose, following the seizure of four children by the juvenile court.

The State Board of Charities and Corrections was responsible for the investigation, according to a statement today by the secretary, Mrs. Cornelia Stanwood, but the complaint was made directly by Mrs. Freida Schwartz of 729 Broderick street. It is claimed that husbands and wives are separated at the colony and that W. C. Riker, head of the cult, is said to direct the disposal of the women who join the order.

Riker and his wife, known as "Mother Lucille," were arrested by the police here recently and the entire organization was subjected to an investigation.

Mrs. Schwartz's husband was a member of the colony for more than two years.

The Perfect Christian Divine Way maintain headquarters at Hayes and Luguna street here.

Close on the heels of Boggs came other signatures to contracts with the Ad Parade committee, assuring the participation of the California Paper Bag Company, the Reliance Life Insurance Company, the Sperry Flour Company, the Western Photo company.

To date the committee has signed every firm called upon, which indicates the great interest in this year's Ad Masque and in the Parade of Ads feature particularly.

Introduced a bill in the Chamber authorizing the government to lengthen the legal working week to fifty-four hours.

The Man Who Was Thursday.

According to O. O. McIntyre, who digs up new stories for syndicate publication, and who probably has published this one already, two men, strangers to each other, but both having something in common in that they had been indulging in potent home brews, fell into a hiccoughing conversation on the back platform of a suburban trolley-car whizzing across the New Jersey landscape.

"Shay," inquired Number One, "whuz time is it?" Number Two with difficulty extracted from his fob pocket a watch, but a temporary defect of vision prevented him from making out the position of the two hands. Nevertheless he did his best to oblige.

"It's izactly Thursday afternoon," he said. Number One gave a start.

"Iz tha's so?" he murmured in surprised tones. "Solate that? Well, then, thish is where I hafter get off."

HOW TO COOK YOUR OWN BREAKFAST

Cooking is not nearly as complicated as the women would have you think. For the present we will divide this science into three main divisions, breakfast, dinner and supper. We'll only have time to take breakfast today.

First, we'll take up the process of making coffee, boiling eggs and heating milk with one and the same operation.

Take the coffee can and empty the grounds which you forgot to empty yesterday. Put in as many cups of water as you want cups of coffee and then add two extra cups to take care of what boils over while you are reading the paper. Next put in two teaspoons of coffee for each cup. You may grind it first if you wish, or suit yourself. Then drop in as many eggs as you want to eat, being careful not to drop them too brutally. Put the pot on the stove, leave the lid open, pour the milk you wish to warm into a shallow pan, set the pan on top of the coffee pot and light the gas.

Now go into the living room, wind the phonograph and put on a ten-inch record. Play it half through again and then run as fast as you can to the kitchen. You will get there just in time to see the coffee boil over, upsetting the pan of milk and putting out the fire. Pour what is left of the milk on your cereal, fish out the eggs, which will now be done, pour a cup of cold water into the coffee to settle it and begin eating your breakfast. By the time you have finished your cereal you will smell the gas which you forgot to turn off. This will remind you to eat your eggs. After you have finished your eggs, gather up the shells, throw them into the coffee pot, turn off the gas, tuck the morning paper under your chin, and open the bottle of cream. After you have carefully pushed the paper top down into the bottle, use your spoon to gather the cream off the newspaper and tablecloth, pour your coffee and enjoy it if you can.

Our next lesson will consist in elucidating the art of "making the bed," provided we are not enjoined by the Housewives' Union, the members of which insist upon throwing a foolish air of mystery over this entire subject in order to delude and keep their trusting husbands under subjection.

JOBLESS HORDE SEEK RICHES IN MUSCLE SHOALS

Attention of Nation Fixed On Spot Where Ford Seeks Foothold.

FLORENCE, Ala., March 31.—With the interest of the nation fixed for months on Muscle Shoals, an influx of people to the district has constituted a problem that has taxed the ingenuity of town and civic authorities.

Agitation of the potential strength of "the South's Niagara" and the possibilities that were expected to be speedily fulfilled in event of development of the latent power of the project, turned a veritable stream of humanity in search of the El Dorado. Folks came on foot, in horse carts, in motor cars, in day coaches and in palatial drawing rooms. There were men with money seeking investments, men in overalls hunting work. There were adventurers looking for something they might find. Some spent money lavishly; others were wards of the community and had to be fed.

The problem at once became so grave that the town authorities of Florence, Sheffield and Tusculum—municipalities composing the district's "tri-cities"—sent out a warning: "Stay away from Muscle Shoals unless you come on legitimate business and have an engagement in advance."

This stopped some of the fortune hunters, but yet they came. Authorities of the tri-cities say the three municipalities will constitute the hub from which will radiate one of the industrial miracles of the age, no matter who the successful bidder may be for the government property.

The municipal woadpile at Sheffield has afforded scores of adventures the opportunity of a square meal.

It burdensome became the task of feeding the jobless that the town, in co-operation with the Red Cross, hit upon the no-work, no soup plan, and it worked. Every man who wanted food and shelter chopped wood. As a result many households burned wood and scores of hungry men were fed.

TRAVELS WITH DEAD.
BELGRADE, March 31.—Mlle. Marie Savoir had to travel 150 miles with the body of a man who killed himself in her railway compartment. She collapsed when the door was opened.

SACRED RELIC IN QUEBEC SHRINE FAILS TO BURN

QUEBEC, March 31.—Villagers gazing yesterday on the ruins of the basilica that sheltered the famous shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, consumed by flames Wednesday, pointed with awe at the wooden statue of Thaumaturge which escaped unharmed.

"A miracle," they whispered, even as they had spoken when pilgrims who had come to the shrine had cast down their crutches and declared themselves healed.

The Redemptorist Fathers, to whose care the shrine had been entrusted, in spurring the faithful to reconstruction of the cathedral, also pointed to the statue, to whom the working of miracles was ascribed in the third century.

Two Die, 20 Hurt In Blaze in Hotel

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., March 31.—Two persons were killed and 20 injured when fire partially destroyed the Richmond hotel here early today. The dead are George Wheeler, 50, and Ellen G. White, 70.

DOUBLE LOVE SUICIDE.
BORDEAUX, March 31.—Jilted by the same man, Adele Carte and Elizabeth Fredonil decided to commit suicide. Both took poison.

'ONE BIG UNION' BARRED IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, T. H., March 7 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Request for a charter for the United Workers of Hawaii, an international labor organization here known as the "one big union" has been refused by Governor W. R. Farrington, on the ground that the present organizers could be swept out of control by "unfriendly and alien forces who might use the machinery of a legal charter for un-friendliness and alien ends."

Dodge Trial Delayed For Wedding Fete

DETROIT, March 31.—John Dodge, son of the late John F. Dodge, automobile manufacturer, celebrated his wedding anniversary yesterday instead of appearing in court on a charge of violating the parking ordinance. When the judge was told of the anniversary he continued the case.

Dodge was charged with parking an automobile in a restricted zone. It was Judge Bartlett who sentenced him several weeks ago for exceeding the speed limit.

Gen. Haan Dies After 36 Years of Service

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Major General William G. Haan, president of the army classification board, retired today from active service, concluding a continuous military career of more than 36 years. During the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection he distinguished himself. He took the 32d division to France in 1918 and again won distinction in foreign operations.

The citation by which he was awarded the distinguished service medal shows that the general took a prominent part in the Argonne Meuse offensive and in the attack against Cote Dame Marie, covering several days, which deprived the enemy of the keypoint of the position.

RABBITS' RIDDLE 250 TONS OF HAY DURING WINTER

RENO, Ore., March 31.—Two hundred and fifty tons of hay which Henry Steinkamp, desert rancher, had considered as an adequate three years' reserve supply, saved hundreds of jackrabbits from death by starvation during the winter. Daily herds of hundreds massed around Steinkamp's corral, and daily the reserve diminished. His ammunition was limited to 50 shotgun shells and deep snow prevented his coming in for more. Fifty shots accounted for 365 rabbits, but utterly failed to stem the attack. The haystack was riddled and devastated.

Self-Styled Inventor Sent to Penitentiary

Theodore Shade, self-styled inventor, 60 years old, was yesterday sentenced to serve from one to fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary. Shade was convicted by a jury in Superior Judge Samuel's court of having swindled a number of Alameda county residents out of various sums of money, which he obtained on the pretext of promoting an alleged invention for extracting gasoline out of stone distillate. The invention was found by the jury to be without merit.

Following his conviction Shade asked probation, but this was denied on the motion of probation officers. Shade formerly lived in San Francisco.

Cured by a Native Herb

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.
Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it. —Advertisement—

TRINITY OF STARS SING TANNHAUSER WITH RARE CHARM

Chicago Opera Company Presents Wagner Opera to Entranced Throng.

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.
Three as beautiful voices as one can expect to hear and others that in any but this company would have been considered superlative made the Chicago Opera company's production of "Tannhauser" last evening a lasting joy. The fine old Wagnerian opera was superbly mounted; the ballet was charming; the costumes were rich; but after all, it was those three singers—Rosa Raisa, Josef Schwarz and Edward Johnson—through which this operatic vine broke into bloom.

Despite the intermediary revivals, there has been no "Tannhauser" to compare with this since the days of Conried and Grau. There was a commonly possessed earnestness among the members of the company that was itself a hallmark of fitness. They sang Wagner, not as Rossini or Verdi would be sung, not even as Strauss or Humperdinck, but with some of that noblesse oblige that every Wagnerian interpreter ought to feel. This, too, without heaviness, which would have been as gross a fault. The drama was acted as cleanly and as intelligently as the parts were sung.

TENOR MAGNIFICENT

Against the singing no finger could be raised. Johnson's tenor voice was invulnerable. It stood under the ordeal of the pilgrimage narrative with as facile and sturdy surety as in the simpler fable of Venus. Its dramatic timbre was continually tested, and never failed. Rosa Raisa sang with the simplicity, tonal beauty and eloquence which always mark her success. The "Almeida" scene, "Hear My Sorrow" was compelling in its poignancy and beauty.

Facing altogether different demands, Schwartz quite duplicated his "Rigoletto" success. He sang the part, one of the finest in all operatic literature, with sobriety and judgment, yet effectively. Vocally his voice was a revelation in baritone richness, and in technique. Not alone from the ode to the Evening Star did he strike fire, but even from recitatives and Wolfram's scattered brief lyrics he drew sparks. Cyrena Van Gordon, right in the Venus role was not physical alone, though even so, it was a divine right. She sang the part with unctuous grace in a voice of deep contralto influence. Edward Johnson's Landgrave was an improvement upon his Egyptian King of the opening night, altogether a creditable offering. Pietro Cimini exploited well the difficult score.

WAGNER RELISHED.
Wagnerian revivals are still somewhat a task for the pioneer. The war and the hate of things Germanic steadily fade but are not quite forgotten. One approaches a rehearsal of the Wagnerian music with some of the trepidation of a maid approaching her first cigarette. We suspect the glories awaiting us, but tremble at the traditional naughtiness. Then to have it in the original, was another potent fearfully to be approached. But let me quickly allay apprehensions: the stage did not tremble, the auditorium walls remained upright, no lightning was hurled upon the audacious singers, none in the seats arose or departed in righteous wrath. The dose was swallowed as easily as would have been an Italian text. This sub-rosa, there was an almost audible smacking of lips.

Most of the company could pronounce German words with considerable fluency. There was a general tendency to "ish" and "dish" instead of the harder sound, but none except American teachers of German ever has objected to that. And it was part of the general fitness of things, which throughout the evening once was marred, that Wagner's speech should have been restored as the medium for his mighty drama.

Livermore Foresters Pull Off a Smoker

LIVERMORE, March 31.—At a "smoker" given by the Foresters of America, Past Chief Rangers Chester Beck and Harold Rees were presented with emblems, the former receiving a set of gold cuff links and the latter a ring with the Foresters' emblem upon it. The presentation speech was made by M. C. Callaghan. The evening was a get-together meeting at which the members were entertained with talks by members and musical numbers furnished by the Court's orchestra.

The only business transacted during the evening was the election of delegates to the state convention to be held at Santa Cruz in May. Those elected were Chester Beck, P. C. Callaghan and F. C. Lassen, with the following alternates: D. A. Smith, H. J. Bargmann and Walter Holm. At the conclusion of the "smoker" the members enjoyed a banquet.

S. F. SYMPHONY'S FINAL CONCERT IS MUSIC FEAST

Conductor Hertz Presents a Varied Program to Enlightened Throng.

As conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Alfred Hertz waited his authentic baton last night in an Oakland farewell. Coincidentally he closed the seventh season of the artists' concert series at the Auditorium theater with an attraction that attested the discriminating sense of the master in building a program no less than in directing its execution.

The evening was also made notable by the impetus given the movement for an Oakland symphony season jointly with the 1922-23 artists' concert series. During intermission the project was announced and outlined—contemplating an independent season of symphony for Oakland with ten concerts by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, regular symphony and popular programs alternating—and subscriptions towards its fulfillment were invited.

At the same time tribute was voiced for Miss Zannette W. Potter, her zeal, her enterprise and her success in obtaining for Oakland people the high grade music they have been enabled to enjoy for the last seven years.

With Louis Persinger, concert master, as violin soloist, Conductor Hertz took his orchestra through four numbers that compassed however briefly and fleetingly the tonic miracles of Beethoven, the rich eclecticism of Saint-Saens, the floral arabesques of Dohnanyi and the massiveness of Wagner.

Heading the offerings was the Fifth Symphony, whose every movement that is always sure to awaken an enthusiastic response, most widely known as Beethoven's symphonies, and called popular because its appeal is so universal. Saint-Saens was represented by the Prelude to "Le Deluge," the cantata written on the scriptural story of the Flood. Louis Persinger's violin obligato evoked an insistent applause that he acknowledged modestly.

The Dohnanyi Suite for orchestra, opus 19, carries the intoxicating Hungarian strain through all of its four movements. The first of these opens in F sharp minor and ends in major; the second, a scherzo in A minor opening with wood-winds, the strings coming in; the third, a romanza in F major, giving play to an oboe solo, a cello solo, then a change to F sharp major to be taken up by the brass section. The last movement is a rondo—really capriccioso—in A major, a wild theme, its diablerie accentuated by the treatment of the strings.

It was fitting that Alfred Hertz should beat time to his Oakland goodbye over the colossal Wagner—the overture from "Tannhauser." The final crashing crescendo on the "Pilgrims' Chorus" set up echoes in the ears of the audience to reverberate fondly for many a day.—R. S.

HARDLUCK HORN.
LONDON, March 31.—Lord Dartmouth has sold the famous herald's trumpet which superstitious Yorkshire folk have blamed for the misfortunes of his family. It is 500 years old.

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Madder, I always wins the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick, madder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the delicious kind of Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes.

How to make GOOD COFFEE

THE goodness of Coffee depends very largely on the care with which it is made. Read the following six rules carefully. They may enable you to make even better Coffee than you are now enjoying.

1 Roasted Coffee loses its flavor rapidly, especially after it is ground. All Coffee, and especially Ground Coffee, should be kept in a container that is moisture-proof and as nearly air-tight as possible.

2 Measure Carefully The amount of Coffee to use depends upon the strength you like. Experiment until you find just the amount of Coffee that suits your taste, then stick to it. Don't guess! Measure proportions carefully, both Coffee and water.

3 Use Grounds Only Once Don't leave the Coffee grounds in the pot and re-steep for the next meal. Used Coffee grounds are of no more value in making good Coffee than ashes in building a fire.

4 Use Boiling Water The water used in making Coffee should come to a full boil before it is taken from the fire and poured into the Coffee pot. But don't let the water and the ground bean boil together after they are mixed. Boil your water, but don't boil your Coffee!

5 Serve at Once Many a pot of perfect Coffee has been ruined by letting it cool. If you must wait, keep the Coffee piping hot, but never let it boil. Re-cooking injures the flavor.

6 Scour the Coffee Pot It is not enough to give the pot a hurried rinse and set it away to dry. Scour it even more carefully than other cooking utensils.

If you use a percolator, pay particular attention to the little tube through which the hot water rises to spray over the grounds. Scrub it with the wire-handled brush that comes for the purpose.

If you use a drip pot with a filter bag, rinse the bag clean in cool never hot—water. Keep the bag sweet by submerging it in cold water when not in use. Renew filter bags frequently.

BOURBON CHIEF CRITICISES ACTS OF REPUBLICANS

Chairman Hull Attacks Administration's Conduct of International Affairs.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 31.—(By Associated Press).—Speaking at a meeting of Delaware Democrats here last night, Chairman Hull of the Democratic National Committee referred to President Harding's decision to take no active part in the coming congressional campaign and declared that "the most terrible commentary on this congress is the fact that Republican leaders who could stomach Newberryism cannot stomach the sitting Republican congress."

Chairman Hull in his address attacked the Republican administration's conduct of international affairs, particularly the treaty with Germany, and described the Republican economy campaign as "largely a fraud."

"According to press reports," he said, "President Harding is now declaring that he will take no active part in the election of Republican congressmen and senators this year. I think I can readily understand this attitude of the President. Most of the sitting members, it appears, will, through the strength of their respective local machines, be renominated. It is evident that the people have already made up their minds to vote for sweeping changes in the present complexion of Congress. President Harding's attitude of keeping aloof offers striking proof that while he, in common with the Old Guard crowd, was anxious to see Newberry seated, he cannot work himself up to the point of engaging in personal activities in future support of the present Republican Congress. The most terrible commentary on this congress, therefore, is the fact that Republican leaders who could stomach Newberryism cannot stomach the sitting Republican congress."

TALKS OF CONSISTENCY.
"There is no reason why a sense of consistency or shame should interfere with the rendition of this Republican aid simply because Republican leaders so falsely and brutally denounced President Wilson for urging the election of a Democratic congress in 1918, just as Lincoln, Roosevelt and other Presidents had done. Such cutting of words, such suppressions of conscience, such about-face tactics and such reversal of former professions will be necessary in most every instance where it is now proposed to do anything practical or sensible."

Hull declared that American and German citizens were suffering severely as a result of inadequacy of the German treaty, adding:

"The administration greatly magnifies most of its acts. For instance, the separate treaty with Germany was presented as providing for the early and complete restoration of relations with Germany and full settlement of all matters growing out of the war. The fact is that several new treaties must yet be negotiated between this government and Germany before the chief results desired can be had."

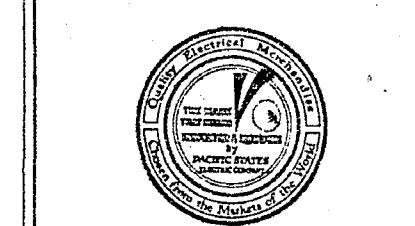

DOMINATION ALLEGED.

"In the meantime interested American and German citizens are suffering severely from the interminable delay. This government some days ago awoke to the startling fact that the door was in the act of closing against us with respect to the payment of $241,000,000 for the cost of our military occupation of Germany. In the meantime Germany's entire international economic situation, including her external trade relations, is under the domination of the reparations commission and other allied agencies, of which the United States with its vital interests involved is not a part. "These half-baked and wholly inefficient performances mark many of the ventures of boasted Republican 'master minds' into foreign affairs. As to whether they have provoked more mirth than contempt is a close question."

RECEIVERSHIP ASKED.

Suarez, whom she says in 1915 entered into a partnership with her to farm the Eckley ranch, has converted partnership funds in excess of his share to his own use, Rose V. Silveria today filed suit against Suarez asking appointment of a receiver, dissolution of the partnership and a restraining order to prevent Suarez from disposing of any of the partnership property.

Contra Costa Pear Crop Looks Heavy
WALNUT CREEK, March 31.—G. B. Putnam, manager of the Stewart Fruit Company of Walnut Creek, who has just completed a survey of the orchards of this section, announces that the Bartlett pear crop this year undoubtedly will be one of the largest in recent years. The trees of practically every orchard are well advanced and no fear is held by the orchardists of any pest or frost harming the crop.
Putnam has also recently completed a trip of inspection throughout the Oakley and Brentwood districts and states that crop conditions there are excellent. Fifteen hundred acres of new trees have been planted this year and many hundred acres more are to be planted in the near future. The new acreage is planted to apricots, prunes, peaches and some in grapes.

From the Shipping Platform to the Selling Platform

CUTTING the Cost of Distribution is one of the most vital problems in this period of Economic Readjustment.

Applied to this business it means shipping the shoes direct from the Regal Factory where the leather is cut, to the Regal Store where the price is cut to $6.80.

In other words it means returning to the policy that I adopted when I opened the first Regal Store twenty-eight years ago, that is, Factory to Feet, All Styles, All Leathers, with One Profit and One Price, from the Shipping Platform to the Selling Platform.

I think the Public have been paying too much for shoes. Yes, too much for Regal Shoes and all other good shoes and the High Cost of Distribution is a big factor in the High Cost of Living.

The first big cut in the cost of distribution of shoes was the elimination of the Three-Profit System—Manufacturer—Jobber—Shoe Dealer—Route to the Consumer.

The Regal Way, "Maker to Wearer," cuts out two Profits and is the shortest distance between two good reasons why you should wear Regal Shoes, i.e., Our Factory and Your Feet.

By producing our own shoes in our own factory—shipping direct and selling in our own stores—we make it impossible for any Middle-Man to meddle with the Price between the Shipping Platform at the Factory door, and the Selling Platform in the Regal Store.

Therefore, from now on we will sell the shoes we make in the stores we own. All Styles, All Leathers, All Sizes and Widths, with One Fair Profit and One Fixed Price, $6.80.

TRIBUNE'S RADIO CLUB, BIGGEST IN U. S., WILL MEET

Special Program Arranged for Session, Which Opens at 10 O'Clock Tomorrow.

The largest radio club in the United States will meet tomorrow at the T. & D. theater in Oakland. The TRIBUTE Radio Club is the largest single organization of radio enthusiasts to be found anywhere in the United States. Its membership at present is more than twice as great as that of all the other radio clubs and organizations in California. And it is still growing. Dozens of new membership applications are arriving with each mail.

Every radio enthusiast in the bay district is invited to attend this first meeting of this largest radio club. The session will begin promptly at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and every member is urged to be on deck in time to witness the showing of the famous radio film, "Radio Telephony." A membership certificate presented at door will admit you, or the special admittance coupon to be clipped from the TRIBUNE will also serve as your ticket to see the film. Every member should present his membership card, however, instead of the coupon, for it may prove to his advantage. Remember, there's a squirrel in the woodpile, and we might have a lot of fun before the meeting's over.

H. E. Metcalf, one of the best-known radio experts on the Pacific Coast, will speak on "The Future of Radio." Metcalf will tell his audience something of the manufacture and construction of the magnavox while he is about it. He is an interesting talker and will reveal some of the things that are just looming over the radio horizon. Be there!

Home-Made Crystal Detector How It Is Made

When a radio message is sent it travels as fast as light, 186,000 miles per second, the current having a frequency as high as 100,000 cycles per second, and, inasmuch as the diaphragm of the human ear will not respond to frequencies or vibrations over 20,000 per second it is evident that the message must be found to detect and translate these impulses before they reach the telephone receiver. It is a known fact that certain crystals possess the necessary properties to accomplish this result, the most popular one used being galena, contact being made by a fine spring wire—hence the name Catwisher.

CATWISHER or GALENA DETECTOR

In order to construct this type of Catwisher detector it will be necessary to obtain the following materials: One binding post. One variable binding post. One bakelite or hard rubber base 4 1/2 inches long, 2 1/2 inches wide, 1/2 inch thick. One piece of galena mounted on cup obtained from any radio supply store for thirty-five cents. One brass or copper strip. Two inches of phosphor bronze or copper wire, No. 23 or 30 B. S. gauge. One round brass rod 1-1/5 of an inch or 3-32 of an inch in diameter, 1 1/2 inches long, threaded to take hard rubber handle. Drill an 1/8 of an inch hole 3/4 of an inch from both ends in center of base to take binding posts and drill another 5-32 inch hole 1 1/4 inches from edge on left side to take crystal cup and take the copper or brass strip square up and mark off. To mount detector cup and binding post after the three holes are drilled, mount the binding post and metal strip as illustrated. Make a spring out of the phosphor bronze or copper wire as shown, soldering same to the end of the rod. You will now have completed the detector. The next step will tell how to make a fixed condenser.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Daily

By Edward M. Davis

LESSON NO. 16. Review of Previous Lessons.

MAGNETISM. Permanent magnets and electromagnets possess north and south poles and the lines of force leave the magnet at the north pole and enter at the south pole. Like magnet poles repel and unlike magnet poles attract. Lines of magnetic force flow more easily through iron or steel than through air.

CURRENT ELECTRICITY. The fundamental units of an electric circuit are: VOLT, the unit of pressure; AMPERE, the unit of current; OHM, the unit of resistance. Ohm's law states that the current in a circuit equals the voltage divided by the resistance.

ELECTROMOTIVE FORCE. Electromotive force or voltage may be generated by chemical action in primary or secondary batteries or by mechanical action applied to alternating or direct current generators.

STORAGE BATTERIES. Two types of storage cells are in general use, the lead plate-sulphuric acid cell, and the nickel-iron-alkaline cell. Both types of cells require charging from an outside source and deliver current until discharged.

THE RADIO TRANSMITTER. The essential features of a radio transmitter are shown in this lesson by a simple diagram. The direct current motor provides the alternating energy for the operation of the alternating current generator. The voltage of the generator is greatly increased by the power transformer and used to charge a battery of condensers. The discharge of the condensers across the spark gap creates rapid oscillations which are transferred by means of the oscillation transformer to the antenna circuit and the energy radiated in the form of electromagnetic waves.

THE ALTERNATING CURRENT GENERATOR. By the mechanical rotation of armature coils in a magnetic field of constant strength, the generator develops an alternating voltage and current. The magnetic field is produced by electromagnetic magnets so wound as to have north and south poles, the direct current necessary for excitation being received from an external source. In the radio transmitter the alternating current and voltage of the generator supply energy to the primary winding of the power transformer.

DETERMINATION OF FREQUENCY. The frequency, in cycles per second, of an alternating current generator equals the number of pairs of field poles multiplied by the revolutions per second of the armature.

THE DIRECT CURRENT GENERATOR. The direct current generator develops a practically constant voltage and generates a current which flows steadily in one direction. This type of generator may be shunt, series, or compound wound and may be separately excited from an external source, or self-excited from the current of its own armature.

THE ELECTRIC MOTOR. The electric motor receives electrical energy and converts it into mechanical energy. The characteristics of the direct current motor are similar to those of the direct current generator, and it may be shunt, series, or compound wound.

ELECTROMAGNETIC INDUCTION. Electromagnetic induction is a very important factor in radio work. By utilization of its principles, energy is exchanged between circuits which have no electrical connection.

THE ALTERNATING CURRENT TRANSFORMER. The transformer utilizes the principles of magnetic induction to transfer energy from one part of an alternating current circuit to another part. In general, it consists of a magnetic circuit composed of two independent electrical circuits. It has the property of transforming energy at low voltage to energy at high voltage and vice versa. The ratio between the primary and secondary voltages is practically the direct ratio between the number of turns in the respective windings.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: My set consists of a home-made antenna and a pair of old-style Murock phones. I'm using a pair of Bakelite phones and also a pair of old-style Murock phones. I have the property of transforming energy at low voltage to energy at high voltage and vice versa. The ratio between the primary and secondary voltages is practically the direct ratio between the number of turns in the respective windings.

CONNECTING WITH ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES DANGEROUS

Enough "Juice" Is Carried to Cause Death; Only Experts Should Attempt It

The TRIBUNE radio department has had a number of inquiries concerning the utilization of electric light and telephone wires as aerials. Some have heard of the latest discovery of attaching a receiving apparatus to an electric light socket. Concerts, music, and news may be picked up thus as easily as from an aerial. The wires, either electric or telephone, may be used as an aerial, providing contacts can be made for the take-off by cutting through the insulation.

Radio to Entertain Ship Passengers

It is predicted in shipping circles that it will not be long before every passenger ship operating along the Pacific coast, and many trans-Pacific liners will be equipped with radio sets—one for every state room. Ships operating along the coast are in touch with the land broadcasting stations at all times, and passengers will be enabled to listen in on the latest news of the day, and music, the latter will, in many cases, be received in the cabin by magnavox. Liners at sea have heard the land stations several days past. The trans-Pacific Bufoed recently heard the TRIBUNE broadcasting station when four days and nights at sea.

CHICAGO CUBS ARE GIVEN 14 TO 5 TROUNCING BY OAKS

DUFFY LEWIS' SALT LAKE CLUB MAY NOT GO ALONG AS BAD AS SOME FELLOWS ARE EXPECTING

AKS PILE UP TEN SCORES IN ONE FRAME AND WIN WITH EASE

It Couldn't Have Been Stage Fright That Made Killefer's Athletes Look So Bad.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

William Wrigley's wiggly Cubs who are being groomed by Wil Killefer to represent the city of Chicago, Illinois, in the 1922 pennant for the National League pennant were introduced to the Oakland baseball fans at Cal Ewing's ball orchard in Emeryville yesterday afternoon. If these same gentlemen behave themselves in remaining exhibition games which they have scheduled between the time they arrive at Chicago, they are likely to find fans knocking the "C" off their name and substituting a "D". Cubs did not behave themselves like leaguers against the Oaks, the result was that Ivan Howard's 1922 pennant hopes foundered on acid test much easier than they expected and finished the long end of a 14 to 5 score. It was a wild and woolly ball game, and thanks to Jupiter Pluvius for putting the damper on it as on the eighth inning. Too bad he did not arrive on the scene.

Head of the Oaks looking like a man being put to a test, it was like the Cubs were the general to be getting it. For the three innings, Bill Killefer's showed up like a real pitcher. The Oaks were shut out at a hit or a run for that matter. The Cubs managed to collect one run in the fourth inning, and thanks to Jupiter Pluvius for putting the damper on it as on the eighth inning. Too bad he did not arrive on the scene.

Piled Up Ten in the Fourth

"Pitchers" and thirteen other wearing uniforms with the word "Chicago" across them were on the field of battle in the fourth inning. But they all tried to have the same habit, and that was to pile up ten runs in the fourth. The Cubs managed to collect one run in the fourth inning, and thanks to Jupiter Pluvius for putting the damper on it as on the eighth inning. Too bad he did not arrive on the scene.

A score of fourteen runs is the highest that any other team has piled up against the Cubs this spring. The Oaks have started off to pile up ten runs in the fourth inning, and thanks to Jupiter Pluvius for putting the damper on it as on the eighth inning. Too bad he did not arrive on the scene.

Young gentlemen named Stuebel and Jones who finished the pitching job was nicked for the other four runs in the eighth. Singles by Knight and Kohler, along with Ray Brubaker's double to right and errors by Viveiros and Cotter did the work. Hack Miller's hitting, particularly his triple which was all the way to the clubhouse and scored two runs, and a sensational stab by Charley Hollocher of Denny Willie's line in the first inning were the Cub features. It was a great stab and drew applause from the crowd. Ray Brubaker at short for the Oaks made a great one-hand stab of O'Farrell's line drive. Bill Marriott played great ball around third for the Oaks. He fielded a Stat's hit in the first inning was a beautiful bit of work. He also raced to the grandstand to pick off a foul tip.

The Oaks and Cubs will play here again next Sunday morning, and Manager Killefer says his athletes are bound to put up a better sample of ball than they did yesterday. The cold weather had a lot to do with yesterday's showing he says. The score:

BEAR TRACKMEN MEET SOUTHERN CAL. ALL-STARS TOMORROW

JOHNNY WEISMULLER, SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD LAD, SMASHES TWO MORE WORLD SWIM RECORDS

SOUTHERN ALL-STARS AND CALIFORNIA ALL READY FOR TOMORROW

Hurdle Races and Dash Events Look to Be the Features of Dual Track Meet at Berkeley

By DOUG MONTELL.

Not being a prophet nor the son of a prophet it is impossible to forecast whether California's delightful spring weather will continue to shed bitter tears at the wrong moment or whether the California Varsity track team will be permitted to go through their paces against the Southern California All-Stars without the aid of umbrellas and wading boots tomorrow afternoon. Assuming that they will be, which is taking a lot for granted, the boys who rally on the bleachers for so much per ducat will be treated to several of the niftiest races ever presented on a local track. We have in mind particularly the hurdles, high and low, which should be the feature events of a track meet that promises more thrills to the race than any meet booked this season outside of the Stanford-California festival itself. And with the Missouri and U. S. C. meets appearing in the offing that is saying a flock.

While on the subject of hurdles we are reminded of the respective performances of M. E. "Mugs" Van Sant of California and Daggs of Pomona, both of whom have negotiated the 220 low sticks in 24.3 already this season. Daggs doing his fastest time of the year in the Southern Conference meet last Saturday in Los Angeles while Van Sant was pushed to that time by his teammate Neff last Saturday in the dual meet against the Olympic Club at Berkeley in order to break the tape. Van Sant has not to really had himself as a hurdler and having let out a per once Walt Christie expects that the football star will extend himself tomorrow afternoon with the track in shape the time of the race should be close to 24.

Allen of Redlands Favorite for Sprints.

The dash events tomorrow should provide a pair of pretty races with the advantage again lying with the visiting sprinters. Allen is a favorite to cop both the 100 and 200 of the Southern All-Stars. In the century and 22.2 in the 220 being considered fast enough to win any race in these parts which figures to be a Kirksy are not participants. Eddie Sudden of Stanford is being rapidly forced into the Kluge class by his admirers and during the Stanford vacation has been working out on the California oval. Crawford stepped up and down the straightaway with the Stanford speed demon in a few starts Wednesday and from his showing then Crawford figures to be as good as Sudden by the time of the meet, if not better. Crawford will be the only Californian to really figure in the 100 as Capt. Hutchison is not in shape at the present time. In the 200, Hutchison and Crawford will probably follow Allen to the tape in a close race.

Four 440 Men All Close to Even :50.

An excellent 440 should develop with Payne of Pomona, Powers of Occidental, Hendrixson and Henderson of California. The high power for the single lap. Hendrixson was taken into camp by Schiller in the 440 but with two weeks of work since that date he looks capable of stepping around in an even :50 and he may really figure in the 100 as Capt. Hutchison is not in shape at the present time. In the 200, Hutchison and Crawford will probably follow Allen to the tape in a close race.

Blue and Gold Are Strong in Field.

A streak of Blue is looked for in the mile and two-mile although there will be southern entries of note. Fiske, Denton and Kitts are the mile runners. The 2-mile race will be won by Dorr, Knowlton and Mulvaney as the two-mile of ten minute ability. The field events will show California vastly superior from start to finish and the Blue and Gold should run up enough points in these seven events to outweigh all the advantages the All-Stars will accumulate on the track. For the first time this year a relay will be held that will give Henderson, Hendrixson, McDonald and Blenner a chance to show their ability at passing the baton. The dope on the meet calls for a point estimate of 90 to 50 in favor of California before the day is over. There is a possibility that the visitors reached their second round stage today Mrs. A. R. Pommer meets Mrs. C. Van Antwerp, while Miss Margaret Cameron meets Mrs. Brent Potter in opposition. It looks like a final between Miss Cameron and Mrs. Van Antwerp, but the other semi-finalists will have something to say before the day is over.

SUTTON HIGH BEATS YANIKON.

YANIKON, S. D., March 31.—The Sutton High school basketball champions, of Nebraska, defeated Yanikon high school, champions of South Dakota, 21 to 10.

Charlie Daggs III; Not to Appear Here

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Stock in the chances of the All-Southern California Conference team to defeat the University of California and the Stanford University track teams in the dual meets scheduled for April 1 and 2, dropped several points today when it was announced that Charlie Daggs, demon hurdler of Pomona college, would not be able to accompany the members of the All-Southern team on the trip to Berkeley tonight. Daggs, it was said, had contracted the influenza with the result that he would be left at home in bed.

TWO BRUIN THREATS IN THE LOW HURDLES

The 220-yard low hurdles, figured at the start of the season as a certain Stanford event in the annual meet, have two new stars being developed on the California track. Pictured below are F. W. NEFF (on the left) and M. E. "MUGS" VAN SANT (on the right), as seen clearing the last barrier of the low flight in a race that went to Van Sant in 24.3. Both men will appear against the Southern California All-Stars at Berkeley tomorrow.

By W. D. McNICOLL

At Sequoyah tomorrow the qualifying round in the Dennis Seales trophy contest takes place, thirty-two to qualify, should a tie take place for the last position, the lowest handicapped player goes in. The first round match play will take place Sunday, April 2. The second round the following Saturday, April 3. The third round Sunday, April 4. The final Saturday, April 5. The final over 36 holes on Sunday, April 6. All matches will be at handicap holes. The winner, besides having his name engraved on the permanent trophy, will receive a replica cup. Harry Smith, with a handicap of many strokes higher than he now carries, was the first event, while last year's winner was Frank Stratford. At Berkeley tomorrow the official opening of the new holes will take place, with a medal play contest over the new holes course. Everything is reported to be in excellent condition for play when the president of the club drives off from the first hole. The winner retrieves his ball and is rewarded with a $5 bill. The members of the Berkeley Golf and Country Club will have the Lincoln was anticipated for their championship course, but will now reap the reward of "everything in first-class condition."

J. Weismuller Smashes More Tank Records

Lowers Time of Ted Cann in 220 Yards and 22 Metres in N. Y. Swim Meet.

NEW YORK, March 31.—John Weismuller, 17-year-old aquatic star of the Illinois Athletic Club, last night set a new world's record time for 200 meters and 220 yards in an event at the New York Athletic Club Swimming Carnival, negotiating 200 meters in 2 minutes, 18 1/2 seconds, and 220 yards in 2 minutes, 19 1/2 seconds.

The old record for both distances, 2 minutes, 19 1/2 seconds, was made by Ted Cann of the New York Athletic Club. Weismuller, in an event at Detroit, recently, was credited with having made the 220 in minutes, 17 1/2 seconds. This performance has been submitted to athletic authorities. In his record-making swim last night he defeated Leo Geibel, collegiate 220-yard champion, by about 12 yards.

Louis Balbach, of the New York Athletic Club, formerly of Portland, Oregon, won the Metropolitan fancy diving championship. He was a member of the last American Olympic team.

The New York Athletic Club team won the National A. U. water polo championship, defeating the champion Illinois Athletic Club seven, 4 to 3.

It was the second time in ten years that the Illinois team had lost the championship. They were defeated in 1920 by the Olympic Club of San Francisco but regained the title again last year.

Dimond Lowers Own Record in the Tank

OMAHA, Neb., March 31.—D. L. Dimond, of the Omaha Athletic Club, last night lowered his last year's Western A. A. U. record for the senior 100-yard backstroke swim, negotiating the distance in 1 minute 41 1/2 seconds, in the Omaha Athletic Club National and Western A. A. U. swimming meet.

Dimond last year was 1 minute, 21 1/2 seconds. Eddie Quinter, of the O. A. C., placed second, in the Western A. A. U. senior 220-yard breast stroke Dimond also placed first, swimming the course in 2 minutes, 21 1/2 seconds. Mills Swartz, A. A. C., placed second.

Bowling Results

TOLEDO, March 31.—The twenty-second annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress is about all over but paying off the money winners. The last out-of-town five-man teams completed their stringing last night at the Toledo Bowling Club. Then the tournament will be turned over exclusively to Toledoans until the finish Saturday night.

The tournament began February 27 and when the last five-man squad is all over but paying off the money winners, the champions of the American Legion quintet, including in their line-up such stars as Swede Righter and Mills, last year's Stanford star players, will meet the Berkeley All-Stars, a team comprised of such players as Art Eggleston and other local favorites who have been stars during the season.

According to word received from Bud Kearns this morning Eggleston is taking personal charge of the organization of the All-Star five and has had his men in training for the past couple of weeks for the game tonight so that the team will not have the easy time that they had figured on. The first game will start at 7:30 sharp.

Oaks to Play 2 More Games Before Start

Ivan Howard's pennant hopes will make just two more showings before the home fans and then they will light out for Sacramento, where they will open the 1922 season next Tuesday afternoon against the Sacramento Senators. The next appearance of the Oaks before the home fans will be tomorrow afternoon at the Oakland Coast League Park when they will meet Frank Woodward's All-Stars in a benefit ball game. Ivan and Del Howard have been having a lot of fun kidding Frank Woodward about what they intend to have their athletes do tomorrow, so Frank is out to see that his athletes give the Oaks the scare of their lives if not a good beating. Frank has lined up a pretty looking ball club of local boys, most of them from the Oakland Tribune League.

Eddie Nelson, the young fellow who pitched such fine ball for the Hawks at S. C. W., will be on the hill and his shoots will be received by Laurence Reeson, the little blonde who caught for the Oakland Natives. Jimmy Foster will play third with Wally Mass on short. Billy Osgood and Phil Gaudin are the infielders. The outfield will consist of "Lefty" Beeson, Bobby Foster and Jimmy Moore. Frank Woodward has the right to pick one of the former Tribune League pitchers from the Oaks' staff if he wants to use him.

The receipts will be turned over to the Mothers' Club, which helps to care for the undernourished children of the city. Each school day members of the many districts in which the club is represented, visit the schools and bring food, clothing and dish out milk and bread to the kiddies.

The final appearance of the Oaks will be with the Chicago Cubs on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The Cubs are certainly capable of playing better ball than they did yesterday as their record for games with other Coast League clubs speaks for that.

BUSINESS & FINANCE

Building permits in the city of Oakland for the week ending March 24, 1922, amounted to $500,000, or more than $500,000 over the same month last year, and is a proof of the rapid return to normalcy and activity in the building boom which is now on in the East Bay district, according to John P. Hassler, cashier of the Central National Bank of Oakland in the survey of business and financial conditions for March issued by the bank today.

The data of the city's building department show that permits for new construction and alterations amounted to $1,314,457 for March of 1921, an increase of $586,870. The survey building boom which is now on, and thirty days of the month and from the manner in which permits are being secured, it may be expected that the total for March will be much higher than last year's.

The week ending Wednesday shows a total of $501,965. The largest permit of the week was for a new brick school to cost $218,149.

Building conditions are of such a nature that the city's building department is confident that the investors of Oakland are alive to the great future that may be expected for the financing of new business blocks are eagerly sought.

CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM
The New York Post today says: Earnings in excess of $11 per share for the common, according to the report, have put California Petroleum in the list of companies which are being discussed as being in position to offer better things than the market.

The Van Camp Packing Company of Indianapolis, which had contemplated the purchase of the Van Camp and Canning company, San Francisco, and the Van Camp Packing Company, which had been in the market for some time, had failed to make good their predictions. Apparently the management of California Petroleum may have to be dashed later in the year, for interests claiming to be those of the company, and the company's management, that no dividend action would be taken on the common stock until the company's management had been relieved of the issue is scarcely to be expected this year.

SOUTHERN COUNTRIES GAS
Southern Countries Gas Co.'s comparative statement of earnings and expenses for the 12 months ending February 28, 1922, shows a gross earnings in February alone of $191,115, and a gain in net earnings for the month of $109,371. The statement follows:

1922	1921
Gross earnings...	$4,593,919
Operating expense...	$4,484,548
Net earnings...	$109,371

RAILWAY APPROVES
The recent purchase of the Sacramento Valley Railway by the Western Pacific was approved at a meeting of directors of the last named company, chairman John B. Dennis, George W. Murray, A. M. Hunt, William Fries, J. G. Hooper, C. M. Levy, Thomas S. Montgomery, C. W. Ribley, Frank Smith and Harris Wein.

Selected officers are Charles M. Levy, president; George W. Murray, vice-president; John B. Dennis, secretary; and Harris Wein, treasurer.

MARKET FAVORABLE
After another remarkable demonstration of strength, which carried the market level for 1922 representative stocks, like Baldwin, Steel common, Studebaker, New York Central, Pennsylvania, and a long list of other standard industrial and rail, the New York Stock Exchange today had a sharp setback during the afternoon, says the Wall Street Journal.

It was the issue which had experienced the greatest advance in the market, and the market closed reactionary.

StampsFEUD AT CARMEL ENDS; DUELISTS
SIGN PEACE PACTThere Will Be No More Fistic Encounters Between Wilson and Criley.Carmel's feud was at an end today. Sherman Wolf, attorney, announced that peace reigned, and that there would be no further encounters between Harry Leon Wilson, author, and Theodore M. Criley, landscape artist, who fought a fistic duel recently.Wolf declined to make public the "peace terms."Additional details of the fight and incidents immediately preceding it were divulged today by residents of Carmel which include within its city limits artists of fame, near-fame, and potential fame, as well as the common or garden variety of suburbanites.

COMMOTION CAUSED.

According to these neighbors the feud between the two members of the artistic colony dates back to January and "Pomander Walk." Since that time relations have been strained and all residents of Carmel have been awaiting an open break.Two weeks ago a party was given by Charles K. Van Riper, a writer protégé of Wilson's and one of his seconds in the fight.The feature of the affair was a long counter with restaurant stools on which the guests perched and ordered "anything they want." Wilson had written Criley previously daring him to meet him in public.
He said in the letter, it is said, that he would "show Criley up."The Crileys were invited to the Van Riper affair and found Wilson and Mrs. Wilson already seated at a table. There was a ripple of excitement and then silence as Criley removed his glasses and placed them in his pocket.Wilson and his wife arose from their places hurriedly and left the party and the former is said to have reproached Criley in a later letter for trying to "make a disturbance."Then came the challenge and the battle.

SECOND IS SILENT.

Wilson had for his seconds Van Riper and Ernie Schwininger, the village grocer. Schwininger was proud of Wilson's selection until he learned that it is against the law to duel with fists or other weapons.
Schwininger today is emulating the silence example of the principals.The battle between the two members of the intelligencia was "some light," the neighbors agree.Wilson stripped to the waist and showed himself in the pink of condition. Criley removed his coat and glasses and when Van Riper called "time" the finish fight was on.That it was all Criley's battle is contended by the seconds. Wilson drew first blood and then he drew Criley's attention to him and collected from four to six knockdowns before he was hastened to the land of dreams.
